PREPARATIONS FOR THE SIEGE.

An Attack Probable on the Southern and South-eastern Sides—Power of the City to Resist—The Army Within the Walls—Extent of the Signal Service.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The Prussians are closing in on Paris in a way that indicates an attack on the southern and south-eastern sides; and in that direction so as to secure their supplies, and at the same time prevent reinforcements from the south and west to the besieged. Military men of experience here say that the power of the city to resist is limited only by the supply of food. Gen. TROCHU has 410,000 men under arms, who will all become good soldiers behind the ramparts. The citizens are determined to emulate Strasbourg. If the city holds out three months, the Prussians will be driven back to the Rhine.

EXTRAORDINARY PREPARATIONS.

Gen. TROCHU's proclamation to the troops, on Wednesday, discloses the fact that the most efficient ureparations for defense have been made, The enemy will have to make their way over barricades if they batter down the walls or get within the city by surprise.

IMMENSE SUPPLY OF POWDER.

There is an immense supply of powder, 8,000,000 kilogrammes, within the walls.

SIGNAL TELEGRAPH.

A signal telegraph has been put up on Arc de Triomphe, to correspond with that on Fort Valerien. A new system of signals has been arranged of colored lights. When the trees are removed, all the movements of the enemy will be visible from the signal station. At the latter the electric telegraph is used still. But the enemy will have considerable difficulty in finding the wires.

EMPLOYMENT OF BALLOONS.

The balloon signals will also be used, and photographic bird's-eye views will be continually taken of the enemy's advance, and will be sent instantly to Gen. TROCHU.

TROOPS FROM SEDAN.

Troops are daily arriving who have escaped from Sedan. Among those who reached the city last night was a General in peasant's attire.

Our correspondent, writing from Paris under date of yesterday, says that bread and meat have fallen in price, but salt and provisions have risen.

MOCK SALLIES.

On Wednesday evening the first of a series of mock sallies, to be made by the besieged, was made with 80,000 regular troops.

Paris Declared in a State of Siege—Electric Lights on all the Forts—All the Forests Consumed—A Million of Volunteers.

PARIS, Sept. 16.—The city has been declared in a state of siege; non-combatants are to be expelled. Electric lights have been placed on all the forts around the city, in order to reveal the enemy at night. The Journal of Havre is certain that Paris is supplied with 3,000,000 kilogrammes of gunpowder, twice as much as was expended at Sebastopol. The forests around the city are now entirely consumed. All the regular troops, as well as the Franc-Tireurs, have left Paris to oppose the movements of the Prussian Army of the Loire. The railway between Paris and Lyons has been cut by the French authorities.

A MILLION VOLUNTEERS.

In the departments of Bouches du Rhone and Gard the volunteer enrollments exceed 50,000. In all France over 1,000,000 have been enrolled. Italian volunteers in great numbers have arrived at Lyons.

It is reported that the American ship Queen has arrived at Toulon with 500 American volunteers and 7,000 rifles.

A NEW ARMY AT TOURS.

The military head-quarters at Tours are rapidly organizing a large army, to be known as the Army of the Loire. It is to be formed of the contingents from the western departments and those bordering on the Pyrenees.

COMMUNICATION WITH LONDON.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Throngs of people are escaping from Paris.

A slow mail-route has been arranged between this city and Paris, by way of Amiens and Rouen.

LONDON NOTES

Father Hyacinthe to the United States—Terms of Peace of the German States—A Story about the Crown Diamonds.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Pere HYACINTHE has published a letter expressing the warmest gratitude to the United States for its prompt recognition of the Republic. He has been prevented by illness from going as a chaplain in the army. The letter addressed by Mr. WASHBURNE to the Minister of Foreign Affairs is, he says, "a page in the history of liberty in both worlds. It revives the memory of WASHINGTON and LAFAYETTE, and proves that if despotism has succeeded in dividing the two Governments, liberty had not for one moment ceased to unite the two nations. Europe, on whose soil the blood of our heroic defeats has been shed, still keeps silence; while America, notwithstanding that the ocean separates us, makes her voice heard."

TERMS OF PEACE OF THE GERMAN STATES.

A sensational dispatch of a Berlin correspondent to the Manchester Examiner, this evening, as to the terms of peace resolved upon by the representatives of the German States in council with the King, at Rheims, is generally discredited here. It is considered that the statement that Bavaria and Baden renounce any claim for the enlargement of territory proves its falsity.

THE CROWN DIAMONDS SOLD.

It is said that the "Crown Diamonds" lodged by the Empress in the Bank of France are paste, and that the real ones were sold long since through the American dentist EVANS, and the money converted to the use of the Imperial family. R.

The Attack to be at First Directed at Vincennes—Position of the Advance and the Scouts—Occupation of Colmar.

POSITION OF THE ADVANCE.

The following intelligence is just received (3 P. M.) from Paris:

The advance of the Prussians is at Breteuil and Neuilly-sur-Marne, and their scouting parties have occupied Corbeil and Clamart. [Corbeil is eighteen miles south south-east of Paris. Clamart is on the Paris and Versailles Railroad, five miles south-west of Paris. Neuilly-sur Marne is about seven miles east from Paris, on the road from Vincennes.] The Uhlans are reported at Courcelles.

PARIS, Sept. 16.—The Ministry has made public the following official intelligence:

The Prussian head-quarters on Friday were at Meaux. [Twenty-five miles east north-east of Paris, on the Marne.]

The Prussians were yesterday at Joinville, seven miles from the city.

OCCUPATION OF COLMAR.

LONDON, Sept. 16—P. M.—A force of 5,000 infantry and cavalry, of the Grand Duchy of Baden with twenty cannon, occupied Colmar, [on the Rhine border,] on Thursday, after a skirmish with the French riflemen. The National Guards in the provinces are suffering for want of food and forage.

A New Demand from Prussia—The Restoration of Napoleon.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—It is reported that railroad trains leaving Paris yesterday and today were attacked and captured by the Prussians. Several passengers on board were killed and wounded.

PARIS, Sept. 16—Noon.—The Prussians having captured a railroad train at Senlis, travel in that direction stops immediately.

There have been no railroad trains beyond Pont Vise since Wednesday last.

PARIS, Sept. 16.—Advices received by the Minister of War show that the sharp-shooters and Free Corps are capturing many Prussians in the suburbs.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The French have uselessly destroyed all the works of art on the highways and railroads leading out of Paris. Notwithstanding this wholesale destruction of property the advance of the Prussian Army has not been delayed a single hour.

Latest Reports—Captures by Prussians—Cannonading Heard in the Direction of Bourget.

PARIS, Sept. 16, P. M.—The Prussians are at Creteil, Calmant, Charenton and St. Ouen, almost within cannon-shot of the walls of Paris.

A number of prisoners were taken yesterday by the Prussian cavalry and sharp-shooters, and several convoys of munitions of war and provisions were also captured. The Prussians now occupy some of the small woods around Paris which were too green to burn.

Cannonading and musketry firing have been heard all day in the direction of Bourget.

A number of vagrants who were lately expelled from Paris, finding themselves between the walls of the city and the Prussian Army, endeavored to forcibly to re-enter Paris, but were driven away by the troops.

Many Prussian spies were arrested, yesterday, in and around Paris, and the citizens were with difficulty restrained from killing them. Twenty-two thousand Gardes Mobile, from Brittany, arrived in Paris yesterday.

Gen. DUCROT, who escaped from Sedan, reached Paris yesterday, and will be at once appointed to an important command.

The Diplomatic Corps will leave Paris if bombardment actually commences.

HOPES OF PEACE.

Bismarck's Reply to Jules Favre—Russia Declines Further Effort for Mediation—Paris Journalists Still Hopeful.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—It is reported that the Foreign Office here has BISMARCK's reply to the demand of JULES FAVRE for an armistice. Count BISMARCK says there are questions yet to be settled with France before the suspension of hostilities is possible.

FRANCE AND HER TERRITORY.

A Paris correspondent writes to the evening edition of the Times as follows: "There are those who think it possible that France would give up a portion of her fleet, pay the cost of the present war, raze the walls of Strasbourg and Metz, abolish the conscription, and accept a limitation of the army as the price of peace; but nobody believes that she will cede a foot of territory."

MEDIATION.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The Times this morning has a special telegram from Berlin, giving the following summary as presenting the latest intelligence on the question of mediation:

Russia declines all further effort for mediation. Mr. BANCROFT, the American Minister, denies having invoked American intervention. Prussia is satisfied with the reserved attitude of England, as defeating the French hope for armed intervention. Germany demands the cession of Alsace and Lorraine.

The Paris journals today persist that mediation is possible. The measures of defense at Paris are now so great it is expected that fact will act strongly in favor of peace.

PEACE THROUGH NAPOLEON.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 16.—The Journal of this city (official organ) regrets the refusal of the Prussian Government to treat only with the French Emperor for peace. The Journal says as NAPOLEON cannot again reign in France he cannot as a consequence enforce the treaty.

NO INTERVENTION BY FOREIGN POWERS.

PARIS, Sept. 16.—The Peuple Français says none of the foreign Powers have offered to intervene in favor of France, and no such offers would be accepted.

It is reported that whereas the Prussians demand guarantees in case of peace, the Provisional Government is preparing to furnish them.

THE EXILES.

Napoleon's Visitors at Wilhelmshoehe—The Majority Americans—Eugenie's Annoyances—Discovery of Their Cipher Correspondence.

LONDON Sept. 16.—A dispatch from Berlin states that only a few curious travelers have thus far visited Wilhelmshoehe since the arrival there of the Emperor NAPOLEON, and more than half of them were Americans. On Friday last the Duchess of HAMILTON visited the Emperor. He dresses in undress uniform, and has Dr. CONNEAU perpetually on his right during his almost incessant walks. Princes MURAT and MOSKOWA, DR. CHAS. PAJOT and Viscount REILLE are in his company much of the time.

ITALY AND ROME.

Civita Vecchia Occupied—The Troops Closing Around the Papal Capital—A National Parliament to be Summoned.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The Italian troops have occupied Civita Vecchia, meeting with no resistance. From dispatches received from Florence it would seem the Italians have surrounded Rome by this time, if the programme of the Government has been faithfully followed.

FLORENCE, Sept. 16.—After the occupation of the Papal States, Italy will instantly summon a National Parliament, to be chosen by universal suffrage.

A collision occurred yesterday between the Italian troops and the Papal Zouaves, five kilometres from the City of Rome. Only a few were killed and wounded on each side. The Italian head-quarters on Thursday were fourteen kilometres from Rome. Gen. BIXIO has reached Coronto, near Civita Vecchia, and, doubtless, Velletri and Valmontone will be occupied today. The gendarmes, Custom-house officers and people fraternize with the Italians, and are received with acclamations.

The successor of Señor SAGASTA has not yet been appointed.

CITY WAR NEWS.

The Ladies' Organization—Arrangements for a Fair.

A meeting of the German ladies, who have organized to open a bazaar for the benefit of a fund in aid of the wounded and the widows and orphans of German soldiers, held a meeting at Steinway Hall, yesterday afternoon, when a plan was adopted to commence the collections on Monday, as the fair is to be opened on the 17th inst., at the armory of the Thirty-seventh Regiment, which has been placed at their disposal for that purpose by Col. COX. The ladies of the Committee of Arrangements, of which Mrs. Consul-General ROESSING is President, have already, during the past week been engaged in making collections among their acquaintances. An organization has been effected on a plan submitted by Mrs. Gov. SALOMON, and several sub-committees of gentlemen have been formed, to assist the ladies in their undertaking. These are: the Committee on Decorations, the Committee on Flowers, whose object is to procure flowers gratis, the Publication Committee, and the Floor Committee. For General Treasurer, Consul KUEHNE was elected. The goods that are received will be properly classified, and each department is to be attended by a lady, who may call as many others to her assistance as may be required. The ladies who are engaged in making collections, will be provided each with a subscription book, signed by the President, Mrs. ROESSING. It is reported that in different parts of the Union similar committees are in the course of formation, to co-operate with the New-Yorkers, and numerous communications on the subject have been received.

The German War Meeting To-night.

In pursuance of a resolution passed by the General Committee of the German Patriotic Aid Societies at Liederkranz Hall on Wednesday, the officers of that Committee, who have been constituted a committee of arrangements, have been making extensive arrangements for a mass-meeting, which is to come off at Steinway Hall this evening. The object of this meeting is to declare, on the part of the Germans in this country, that the apparent change in the situation in France, and the proclamation of the Republic, can in no way affect the policy of the Germans, and that they cannot tolerate the least intervention on the part of foreign Powers. This action has been deemed necessary in view of the change of public opinion in regard to the war among the American people, which the Germans engaged in this movement consider altogether unjustified.

THE TURF.

The New-Haven Fall Trotting Meeting—The Postponed Race—American Girl the Winner.

From Our Special Correspondent.

NEW-HAVEN, Friday, Sept. 16, 1870.

The adjourned trotting-race for the purse of $2,000, which had been postponed from the preceding day, after three heats had been trotted, on account of the approach of darkness, was decided today. There was not so large an attendance as on the previous days, for everyone expected to see American Girl (who had won two out of the three heats trotted yesterday, Lucy taking the other,) returned the winner. There was great activity prevailing among the turf speculators in their anxiety to hedge some portion of their money, for they had laid heavily against American Girl, in some instances as much as $100 to $10; her repeated defeats this season encouraging them to take liberties with the mare. This race shows that this famous young mare is at last recovering her last year's great form and fine speed, and if she continues to improve, Goldsmith Maid and Lady Thorn will both have to look sharp for their turf-laurels, or American Girl will eclipse them, as she did in the early part of last season. In today's race the horses got the word to a fair start, but American Girl quickly took the lead, and out-trotting all her opponents, won the heat and race easily by four lengths in 2.28, Lucy second, Mountain Boy third, and Lady Sheridan last. The owner of American Girl, Mr. W. LOVELL, was warmly congratulated on the victory of his mare, by whose success he wins several thousand dollars, he having backed her heavily at the tempting odds laid against her. BEN DANIELS, who drove and trained the winner, deserves honorable mention for the steadiness and skill with which he piloted her through the race. We give the full summary of the race:

SAN DOMINGO.

Condition of Affairs Between Cabral and Baez—Overthrow of the Latter Predicted—Presence of American Vessels.

The following is an extract from a private letter from a partisan of CABRAL, dated St. Thomas, Aug. 31, 1870:

"* * * CABRAL has confided the southern line to the Generals, MARCAS and ADON, and the brothers OZANDO, while he has proceeded to the north, for the purpose of joining Gen. PIMENTEL. As soon as matters are properly arranged at the north, Gen. ADON, who is fully prepared, will take Azua. On this we can rely. We are supplied with everything we want, and that of itself is of considerable advantage. BAEZ's condition is each day more critical. Gen. JOSE HUNGRIA, the Minister of War, who was the chief of the revolution of BAEZ against CABRAL, and the head of the Provisional Government until BAEZ's arrival in the country, has resigned, in consequence of some serious difficulty between himself and BAEZ. The quarrel went to the extent of their resorting to revolvers, and would have come to something more serious if the other Ministers had not chanced to appear in time to put a stop to the matter and finally separated them. A considerable number of BAEZ's former partisans have been arrested, and will be exiled as soon as a vessel can be chartered to send them away.

There is no money in the country. An emission of paper money was proposed, but the Cibao opposed the project so very strenuously as to cause the Government to hesitate, if not abandon the idea; and yet, judging from the depressed condition of their finances, I do not see how it can be avoided. The present war in Europe tends to hasten the downfall of BAEZ by the great decline it has caused in all the articles of export; and now his former strongest friends accuse him of having deceived them in the English loan, the annexation project, and in every other promise made to the people from the day he was inaugurated. I may be mistaken in my conclusions; but am now firmly of the opinion that BAEZ will be overthrown by the end of October, if not sooner. The exiles in Curacoa, or those of importance, have gone to the seat of war, and the few remaining here will soon follow. In a word, things look so well now as to encourage the hope that I may have the pleasure of writing you something more favorable by the steamer of the 14th prox.

I am very sorry that the United States ships of war should remain stationed in Dominican waters, as their presence serves in some measure to intimidate the people. It is impossible to reason with them as you do with me, that the United States Government and people have no partiality for BAEZ and his party, and will as readily and cheerfully treat with CABRAL's Government, should he succeed in establishing his government over the country. They see the ships there, and have come to view them as enemies; they have taken sides with BAEZ in some cases, as, for instance, the visit of Capt. BUNCE, of the Nantasket, to Punta Plata, and his threat, (under the orders of Admiral POOR,) to fire upon the town in case of an attempt to rebel against the Government. However, as the movement will break out in the heart of the country, it will be impossible to carry out such unwarrantable threats.

DON APOLINAR DE CASTRO, one of CABRAL's ablest Ministers, was here recently, and returned to Curacoa, from whence he writes as follows:

'Our last advices from the capital (Santo Domingo) are of the 14th inst. They confirm the arrival of CABRAL on the northern frontier, where he was received with enthusiasm. He insures the firm position of Gens. ADON and the OZANDOS, who will soon march on Azua. They call particular attention to the menacing attitude of the East, to the visible division of BAEZ's party, which has increased tenfold since HUNGRIA's withdrawal from the Ministry, and finally to the irremediable want of means to carry on the Government.'

This information is quite unvarnished, and DE CASTRO assures me, emanates from a source worthy of credit."

SACO, Me., Sept. 16.—The annual conference of Unitarian Churches of Maine, closed a three-days' session in this city today. It was the largest and most interesting conference ever held by the Unitarians of Maine.

Monument to Defoe—The Czar Decorates a Saxon Prince—Abolition of the Death Penalty in Holland.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Mr. CHARLES REED, Member of Parliament for Hackney, today unvailed the monument to DANIEL DEFOE, at Bunhill Fields. The monument is practically one to Robinson Crusoe.... At the session of the British Scientific Association today, Col. BAKER's letter from the White Nile was read. The result favored the atmospheric germ, the theory of spontaneity being decidedly at a discount.

DRESDEN, Sept. 16.—The following is the text of the dispatch of the Czar to the King of Saxony, conferring a decoration on the Crown Prince, his son:

"To do honor to the success of your brave soldiers, I venture to confer on your son, the Prince Royal of Saxony, the Cross of the Military Order of St. George, of the second class, which he has so nobly merited. He will receive it, I hope, as a new proof of my respect and friendship."

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

The New Canon Adopted—Appeal to Civil Tribunals Forbidden—Two New Dioceses Formed—Scriptural Revision.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 16.—The new canon introduced into the Illinois Diocesan Convention, and rejected by a tie vote on Wednesday, providing that any clergyman who appealed from a decree of an ecclesiastical Court to a civil Court, for the purpose of arresting ecclesiastical proceedings against him, be suspended, ipso facto, from the functions of the ministry, was again brought before the Convention last night, and after expressions of strong protest against it by Messrs. Sullivan, McGregory, Powers, Gardner, Thompson, and others, and no word of defense from its friends, passed, as follows: Yeas—Ministers 37, laymen 13; nays—Ministers 22, laymen 7. The new article is as follows:

"No clergyman shall resort to a civil court or tribunal for the purpose of arresting, impeding, or avoiding any ecclesiastical proceedings against him. The penalty for any violation of this article shall be suspension ipso facto from the functions of the ministry."

In order to ease the effect of this article, as Mr. LEE remarked, the following section providing for an appellate Court was introduced and adopted.

"The Bishop and rural Deans of the diocese shall constitute an appellate Court of the diocese, of which the Bishop shall be the presiding judge. In case the Bishop is absent from the diocese, or for any reason he does not sit, then one of the Deans, to be named by the Bishop, or, in his absence from the diocese, by the Standing Committee, shall act as presiding judge. A majority of the members of the appellate Court shall be a quorum for the transaction of business. The Court shall appoint a clerk who shall keep a correct record of the proceedings."

In the Episcopal Convention, today, a resolution was unanimously adopted that two new dioceses should be created, bounded as suggested by Bishop WHITEHOUSE, in his address. The Committee on Revision of Scripture made a report condemning the proposed revision of the Bible by the Canterbury Convocation, and they ground their objections on the following reasons: First, exclusiveness of the movement, no notice having been given to sister Churches; second, the more than questionable orthodoxy of some of the members comprising the Convocation; third, the scantiness or uncertainty of expected results.

The following resolution was offered and adopted with but one or two dissenting voices:

Resolved, That in view of the marked exclusiveness of the movement, the more than questionable orthodoxy of some whose co-operation has been formally invoked, and the scantiness and uncertainty of supposed benefit, the revision of the Bible, now being made by the Convocation of Canterbury, is, in the judgment of this Convention, unwise and inexpedient.

Gen. Sherman in San Francisco—The Oregon Legislature.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—The ball, tonight, at the Lick House, in honor of Gens. SHERMAN and SCHOFIELD, was a magnificent affair. The army and navy were largely represented.... The California and Oregon Railroad is completed to Lote Station, fifteen miles north of Chico. Northern travel is now principally by railroad.... Gov. WOODS, yesterday, presented his biennial Message to the Oregon Legislature. Gov. GROVER was inaugurated today. A bill to discourage Chinese immigration has been introduced in the Legislature.

North Carolina Politics—The Arrest of Gen. Vandervеer—Condition of the Crops—A Court-Martial Sentence Made Public—Issue of Stamps—Various Items.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Late advices from army officers and other disinterested residents of North Carolina indicate that there is pretty general acquiescence in the recent Democratic victories, and that the whole political power of the State will be peaceably transferred to conservative hands. There is much exultation among the ex-rebels, and it is believed a serious attempt will be made to impeach Gov. HOLDEN for paying his militia in defiance of the orders of the Courts. As the Democrats, although with ample strength in the lower House, have only a bare party majority in the Senate, this would seem to be a ridiculous undertaking. But gentlemen who have just arrived from the State say that they expect to gain over in the Senate enough nominal Republicans who are personally opposed to HOLDEN to convict him.

THE STEEL PATENT.

Although there has been no decision on the application for an extension of the Musket patent for manufacturing steel, those conversant with patent laws say that under the new legislation there is scarcely any possibility that the extension will be granted.

THE ARRESTED REVENUE COLLECTOR.

Gen. VANDERVEER, late Collector of the Third Ohio District, whose arrest at the instance of a revenue detective was reported yesterday from Cincinnati, was one of the best known Brigade Officers of the Army of the Cumberland, with a brilliant record, and one of the most highly respected citizens in his district. Persons connected with the Bureau of Internal Revenue during his term of office regard the whole affair as the work of several disreputable detectives, who worked indirectly upon newly-appointed officers in the service, and finally succeeded in securing action by the latter.

REPORT ON THE CROPS.

The Department of Agriculture, in its report on the condition of the crops, says that corn has been injured somewhat in some localities by the drouth, wet weather, heat, worms and heavy frosts, but not injured sufficiently as yet to threaten a material reduction of the aggregate product heretofore anticipated. The only States showing a condition below the average are New-Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Delaware, Maryland, Mississippi, Kansas, Nebraska, California and Oregon. There is considerable damage done to the cotton crop from rust, the worms and unfavorable August weather, but the general prospect is not discouraging. There is little in the figures to indicate a decreased yield of cotton, and favorable weather henceforth must insure a considerable increase. The return upon the wheat product pertains chiefly to the condition of the crop when harvested, though the figures indicate, in a measure, the extent of the yield, as compared with an average. At the date of the reports, however, the grain had not been threshed out to any considerable extent, so that the October returns must be had before an estimate of the aggregate wheat production of the year can be made. The quality of the grain threshed is generally excellent, in many cases compensating for deficient quantity. The rye, oats and barley crops were generally harvested in good condition, with slight local drawbacks. There is an apparent diminution in the rye crop, and also in the barley. Tennessee, Michigan, North Carolina, West Virginia and Wisconsin are the only States which report the prospect of buckwheat above or up to an average. The Middle and Western States indicate a decline of five to ten per cent.; New England, fifteen to twenty per cent. The drouth has blighted the crop in some localities. The drouth in many sections, and destructive insects in others, especially in the West, have materially injured the potato crop. In most of the States the quality of the hay crop is above an average. Sorghum seems to have been entirely neglected east of Pennsylvania. The crop in most of the Western States is reported in a fair condition. Louisiana and Florida report the sugar crop five to ten per cent. above the average. Texas, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia report ten per cent. below an average. California is the only State that reports an increased average in hops. The tobacco crop is reported fourteen per cent. below an average in Connecticut, seven below in Massachusetts, ten in Maryland, seventeen in Mississippi, four in Texas, and two above in New-York, five in Pennsylvania, four in Virginia, fourteen in North Carolina, ten in South Carolina, thirteen in Georgia, ten in Arkansas, nine in Tennessee, five in West Virginia, six in Kentucky, three in Indiana, two in Ohio, and an average in Missouri, Illinois, and Michigan. Though there is much complaint of apples falling during the last two months, and of retarded growth, caused by dry weather, a fair product is promised in the Eastern and Middle States generally, and in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky with from six to nine-tenths of an average crop in the Western States. A small general decline in wool is probable. The condition, as to size and weight, of stock hogs generally compares favorably with that of former years, except in several of the Southern States, and in Illinois, Indiana, New-Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Oregon, which indicate depreciation in this regard.

Execution of Four Negroes in Virginia—Two of the Ropes Break and the Malefactors are Hung a Second Time.

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 16.—Four negroes were hanged today, at the Isle-of-Wight Court-house, for the murder of JOEL GRAY, a white citizen of that county, on the 11th of December last. A large crowd gathered about the jail to witness the execution, but no disturbance occurred.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 16.—At an execution today of four colored men at Isle of Wight Court-house for murder, when the drop fell two of the ropes broke, leaving two men dangling from the scaffold, and the other two lying on the ground. The executioner, after the two hanging ones died, which was not until seventeen minutes had elapsed, marched the other two upon the scaffold, and hung them. There was much excitement among the crowd in and outside the jail-yard when the ropes broke, and the guard had to quiet them.

Pulgar's Bribery—Demand of the Dutch for Compensation—Threatened Bombardment—Challenge of a French War Steamer to Fight a Prussian Gun-Boat.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PORTO CABELLO, Saturday, Aug. 20, 1870.

Since the capture of the Castle of Libertador by PULGAR, it has been ascertained that his success was accomplished by bribing the soldiers on guard with a promise of $2 each and the sergeant with $40. But unfortunately for the privates, the sergeant, who received the money to pay the men, ran away with all of it, consequently they received nothing for their treachery.

ATTEMPTED BLACK-MAIL.

The owner of the ship Jennie, trading from here, a native Creole merchant of considerable wealth and influence, was called upon by GUZMAN BLANCO for a large sum of money, which he refused to furnish, thereupon BLANCO dispatched a corporal's guard of six men and seized him, placing him upon the steamer Guzman Blanco, where he is compelled to work as a fireman. The vessel left as soon as he was placed on board. A Dutch frigate of forty-five guns arrived here recently and made a demand upon BLANCO for $80,000 compensation for the loss sustained by the Dutch residents. Upon being told by BLANCO that he had no money to satisfy the demand, the Commander of the frigate threatened to bombard the town. BLANCO anticipating the carrying out of the threat, at once and secretly, began removing the guns and ammunition from the fort, hiding the same in the town. The Commander being made aware of this, he in conjunction with the master of an English gun-boat which was present to watch the interests of British residents, commenced to seize all the guns and ammunition left, in order to avoid the alternative of destroying the private property in town, the greater portion of which is owned by German residents. They intend seizing all guns and ammunition at Laguyra, also.

THE CHALLENGE.

On the arrival here of the news of the war between France and Prussia, a French war steamer challenged the Prussian gun-boat Meteor to come out and fight, but being unevenly matched the challenge was not accepted, the steamer thereupon left for one of the French West India Islands.

OBITUARY.

Hon. Hiram Ketchum.

One of the old and valued citizens of New-York has just died at Riverdale, in Westchester County. Hon. HIRAM KETCHUM was born in 1792, and came to New-York when a comparatively young man. From the first he took an active interest in public affairs and the social and educational interests of the City, never losing an opportunity of advocating such measures and movements as he believed would promote the highest welfare of the people. He was a lawyer by profession, and had some political ambition, but the latter was never gratified. He was a delegate to one or more Whig National Conventions, and always worked hard for the nomination of DANIEL WEBSTER. His friendship and devotion to Mr. WEBSTER, indeed, was one of his distinguishing traits of character. He was always foremost in any movement to do the great statesman honor, and for several years kept up a constant and intimate correspondence with him. His friendship was highly valued by Mr. WEBSTER, who frequently consulted him on public matters of the highest importance, and solicited his advice with regard to his own course. Mr. KETCHUM was, during several Presidential campaigns, quite active as a speaker and a writer. In the latter capacity especially he did the Whigs valuable service, and his nom de plume, "A Whig from the Start," was well known throughout the country as representing an able and vigorous pen, which had few equals in political argumentation. When the great expounder died, and the Whig Party passed away, Mr. KETCHUM acted with Democracy, but never again had his old zeal and vigor in politics. Another subject in which he always took the highest interest was that of popular education, and his controversy with Archbishop HUGHES on the Public School question is still well remembered by our citizens. He was an earnest opponent of sectarianism in the disposition of the public funds for educational purposes, and said and wrote much on the subject. In his private character he was genial and kindly, and greatly respected by all who knew him, without regard to party differences. By his death the City loses one of its older generation of citizens, whose honor and integrity could not be questioned, and who therefore never held the position which his abilities deserved.

Westchester County Fair—The Races Yesterday.

The attendance at the Westchester County Fair, yesterday, was very large, from eight to ten thousand visitors being present. The list of premiums awarded was read, but it was too extended to notice in detail. The first prize for thoroughbreds was awarded to Mr. PHILIP DUFFY, of Fordham. The entire afternoon was devoted to the trial of speed of horses, according to the rules of the Trotting Congress. The first premium of $100 was for trotting horses owned and kept in the county that had never beaten three minutes; mile heats, best three in five, in harness.

Nine horses were entered, but six of them only started, as follows:

Logan, br. g., entered by John Snyder.
Mohawk, blk. h., entered by Daniel Mapes.
Angeline, ch. m., entered by Cor. Hoagland.
Jack the Barber, blk. h., entered by C. Heinsel.
Toronto Chief, Jr., ch. h., entered by Wm. C. Brien.
Snow Ball, w. h., entered by Capt. Levinus.

The first heat was won by Mohawk in 2:46¾, Angeline coming in second and Logan third. The heat was subsequently accorded to Angeline, in consequence of Mohawk having come in short of weight. The second, third and fourth heats were won by Logan in 2:46¾, 2:45¾ and 2:48¾ respectively, Angeline coming in second in each of the same heats. The trot was remarkably well contested by the three horses named.

The next contest was a running race for a premium of $100, free for all horses, catch weight, best two in three, half-mile heats. The following three horses were entered and started, and came in in the order they are given each heat.

Mr. Thompson's br. m. Lobelia	1	1
Mr. Littlefield's b. h. Zinger	2	2
Mr. Pennock's d.j. h. Wing Quill	3	3

Lobelia won each heat in 54¼ seconds, coming in about a half neck ahead of Zinger. The race was a very exciting and finely-contested one, rarely surpassed on any course. Lobelia was ridden by a white boy about twelve years old, and the other two by colored lads about fourteen years old.

A pedestrian, named JAMES ADAMS, then undertook to walk a mile over the track in nine minutes, and bets were freely made in respect to his performance of the task. He completed the mile in eight minutes and forty-three seconds. The first quarter of a mile he walked in two minutes.

He has agreed to walk a quarter of a mile this forenoon while any chosen horse is walking a half mile; and a special premium of $100 will be given this morning by lady equestrians. The entire day will be devoted to trotting and running matches.

The Yellow Fever Sensation Spoiled.

A story of a sensational character appearing in a morning paper that three persons had died in this City of yellow fever, the Health authorities made an investigation which resulted in proving that nothing of the kind had occurred. The story referred to one JAMES KELLY, who is supposed to have died at Bellevue Hospital, and his wife and Mrs. MCCORMICK, both of whom had lived at No. 16 Essex-street. The proof is positive that neither of them had ever been exposed to yellow fever, or that their sickness had the appearance of that disease, but that they all undoubtedly died of pernicious remittent fever, to which they had been exposed during a recent visit to Edgewater, Staten Island, to attend the wake of a friend.

ITALY.

Government Success in Parliament—General Tranquillity—The Departed French Troops—The Roman Question—Senate Proceedings—Public Sentiment—General News.

From Our Own Correspondent.

FLORENCE, Thursday, Aug. 25, 1870.

Since I wrote last the Government has got all it asked for; the moderate sum of forty millions of francs for the army and navy, and a new vote of confidence by a smaller majority than before, in proportion to the whole number voting. All are now satisfied that the increased armaments have no reference to any active alliance with another power, to succeed possible disasters to armies at present in the field. The increase of force is in the interest of the existing Government and internal tranquillity. If the Empire goes down, and the Republic is tried in France, there is always a possibility that the experiences of two and twenty years ago may be repeated, and with a better prospect of at least temporary success. When the flood is let loose, there is no knowing over what new or old fields it may sweep.

GENERAL TRANQUILLITY.

So far as Italy itself is concerned, very general quiet reigns. Real or imagined woes are forgotten in the contemplation of the inexpressible sufferings of the two great nations which are launching their forces against each other for mutual destruction. The levity of a trivial criticism has given place to a solemn pause and waiting for the end, and the mind is drawn to ponder the tremendous issues of the conflict.

THE DEPARTED FRENCH TROOPS.

To the last man of them, the French troops of the army of occupation are out of the Roman territory. The only Frenchmen left are those of the corps called the Antibe Legion, and these are so little content with the Pope's service and the shabby glory which belongs to it, that they fall now and then into a bloody scuffle with the soldiers of the Zouave army of the Holy Father. The situation at Rome is one of much uncertainty, and is as great a trial as ever to the Government of the Kingdom of Italy. The Opposition party in Parliament is determined not to accept the policy of abstention so many times declared by the Ministry, but resolved to use what is believed by them to be a favorable opportunity for making an end of the Roman question. A meeting of members of the Sinistra was held a few days back, at which the resolution was come to of resigning in mass if the Ministry did not adopt a policy of action toward Rome. But this almost revolutionary process of protesting was hindered by the Minister of Finance, the most energetic member of the Cabinet, who of his own accord went before the meeting and gave the assurance that it was the purpose of the Government to make an end of the controversy about Rome by a settlement in harmony with the national associations and the interest of the Kingdom of Italy, adding the declaration that the Government sees its way clear to arrive at that end with the means it is now using. That the views of the Ministers are in harmony, and that for his own part were all hope of a proximate solution of the Roman question cut off, he would no longer retain the seals of office. These declarations have pacified the opposition, and Parliament will adjourn in a day or two, leaving the Cabinet to carry out, in such way as circumstances will permit, its pacific plans.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

There was a session of the Senate, yesterday, to which more than usual interest was given by the speeches of several of the more distinguished members of that body. MAMIANI, the Edward Everett of Italy, spoke in warm terms of commendation of the course pursued by the present Administation—a course marked equally by firmness and prudence and resolute action. Credit is claimed for Italy for taking the lead in establishing an understanding among Powers (such as Austria, England and Russia) resolved to take no part in the war, but watch and see that it does not assume such proportions as to disturb the present balance of forces and interests.

PUBLIC SENTIMENT.

As for the state of feeling here, the current is now setting pretty strongly toward France. A great many Italians wished to see France punished and humbled, and the Emperor crowded into a corner, and even pushed from his throne. Whatever may become of NAPOLEON III. is of less consequence at the moment, but now the cry is raised that France has been punished enough. The steady progress of Prussia in overcoming French arms, which was at first the cause of admiration, now awakens a feeling of wonder and alarm. And the pride of race is at length touched, and apprehensions are reawakened at the prospect of universal domination by the Saxon and Slave races. As for Rome, the feeling of anxiety among the priests increases every day, in view of a total change in the military condition, and they are preparing themselves for the greatest calamity that can possibly happen, the possession of Rome by the Italian Government. It is said that in a council of directors of affairs, it was resolved to resist the entrance of Italian troops with what force can be displayed by the Pope's Army of 13,000 or 14,000 men;—this with hope that help may come from some pitying human power, or drop down from the skies.

FRENCH MISSION.

We have had the Prince NAPOLEON here this week, in conference with the King; but nothing has yet came out as to the precise object of his visit. It is supposed to have reference to the good offices which the Italian Government is to exercise in favor of France and Imperial interests when the neutral Powers put in their voices to help arrange terms of peace. Signor MINGETTI, one of the ablest members of the Italian Parliament, and several times Minister has gone on a special diplomatic mission to Vienna.

ITALIAN FINANCE.

There is a gradual improvement in the Italian funds, which shows that the course pursued by Italy has had a good effect. The premium on gold is falling, and is now at eight or nine per cent. With France added to the list there are now four great nations with a forced paper circulation—France, Austria, Italy and the United States.

AMERICAN MAILS.

The mails from America are at present extremely irregular, and it is to be hoped that the, great country beyond the Atlantic will before long make a new effort to become independent of the foreigner, and put on the Atlantic ten or twenty postal steamers of its own. The present piddling system is a disgrace to the richest country in the world.

ANGELICO.

LAKE GEORGE.

The Travel—Success of the Season—The Hotels and the People—Amusements—Future Plans—The Cottages and Their Occupants.

From Our Special Correspondent.

FORT WILLIAM HENRY HOTEL,
LAKE GEORGE, Monday, Sept. 12, 1870.

The season at this fashionable resort, like those of its kindred, is fast drawing to a close, nearly all of the visitors now being those who are returning home from their Summer pleasurings. Yesterday, at this hotel, there were only 150 guests, just about a sufficient number to pay the running expenses of the house. This number will probably remain about the same for some days to come, and will then gradually decrease until the 1st of October, when the coverings will be placed upon the furniture, the doors locked, and the house closed, until the heat of another Summer shall again drive away the denizens of our cities, and fashion and pleasure shall once more resume their sway at the watering-places. There is, however, no better time to visit Lake George than during the month of September. The lake, beautiful at all times, seems to clothe itself in a new loveliness. The changing foliage of the forests which line the mountains surrounding its waters, add attractions to the landscape, while the weather, cool and bracing, puts the tourist in the best of humor to enjoy the beauties which nature here so lavishly pours out. Here, during this month, the quiet of the place can almost be felt, for fashion, with its votaries, has taken its departure. But my object in writing this letter is not to moralize, but to treat in a business way of Lake George, giving such information as may be of use to those who design visiting this locality.

THE [illegible]

The Summer season [illegible] cessful than any of those [illegible]. The tide of travel has been constant, and during the entire season this hotel, the largest on the lake, has been pretty nearly, if not quite, filled. The smaller houses also have all met with more than an average success. To note, individually, the guests who have been at the lake during the season would be too difficult a task. Let a few names suffice. Last week Senator CONKLING and Collector MURPHY, of New-York, with his family, made a flying visit, after the labors of the Saratoga Convention had been concluded. Mr. and Mrs. JOHN HOEY were also here. During the Summer Gov. RANDOLPH, of New-Jersey; Gov. GEARY, of Pennsylvania; Congressman RICE, of Boston; Hon. HAMILTON HARRIS, of Albany, and many others too numerous to mention have been among the visitors, while E. H. OWEN, JAMES THOMPSON and Dr. J. H. GAUTIER, all of New-York, have, with their families, made the lake their home for the Summer.

AMUSEMENTS.

Aside from the natural beauties of Lake George, the first question asked is what do persons do to amuse themselves here? At the Fort William Henry, as at other large fashionable hotels, there is, of course, the bustle and activity incident to fashionable life. Billiards, dancing, driving all assist to while away the time. The walks around the hotel are handsomely laid out, and to the west of the house there is, during the Summer, always an Indian encampment, where an hour may be pleasantly passed. Next Summer it is the intention to have a number of donkeys provided for the purpose of enabling visitors to ascend Prospect Mountain, near by, if they so desire. This mountain is 2,200 feet high, and from the summit a most charming and extended view is obtainable; a house will be erected on the top, and thus another attraction will be added to the many now existing. Fishing and hunting are both always here at hand. At the pier, but a moment's walk from the hotel, boats, tackle and a fisherman can always be obtained, and those who wish to try their luck here have an opportunity. Excursions are also in order, and there are now on the lake three excursion-boats, the Ganouskie, Lillie Price and the Owl. The two last named have been added during the present season. They are all propellers, and can be chartered for a small amount by those who wish to explore the laughing waters by which they are surrounded, or to visit any of the many islands which dot the surface of the lake.

GENERAL NOTES.

From the want of rain the waters of Lake George were never so low as at present, being some two feet below the average water-mark. From the same cause the woods have been exceedingly dry, and constant fires have been raging in the vicinity, destroying thousands of cords of valuable timber. Much might be written about this lake, but aside from the facts already given, it would only be a repetition of what has been said before. To those who are interested in the history of the lake, with its scenes and characteristics, and also glimpses of the olden time, reference is made to a little work by B. F. DE COSTA, published in 1868 by RANDOLPH, of New-York. The book is full of information, and gives a clear idea of all there is of interest in this locality. In connection with the lake one fact is worthy of notice, and that is the increase in the number of private residences on its shores now occupied. Col. W. W. PRICE, of New-York, is now erecting an elegant house, which, when finished, will cost some $75,000. Judge JOHN W. EDMONDS, Hon. CHAS. O'CONOR, Rev. Dr. TUTTLE, Gen. HOVEY, and Mr. HAYDEN, of New-York, already have cottages here. GEORGE H. CREAMER, Esq., of Troy, also lives here in the Summer. At Bolton, Messrs. F. THIRROTT, R. KANZ, L. H. MEYER, of New-York, and Mrs. DUNLOP, of Long Island, all have pleasant residences, while on Recluse Island RUFUS WATTLES, Esq., of New-York, has a most picturesque cottage. Land, particularly at this end of the lake, is becoming daily more valuable, and the time is thought to be not far distant when Lake George will really become the Como of America, its shores being lined with villas, the homes of those who in Summer will here seek the repose and recreation needed to vary the monotony of a life of business activity.

LIFE INSURANCE LAW.

Can a Policy be Avoided Because the Insured Died from an Injury Received While Intoxicated?—Important Decision by Judge Daly.

An interesting point of law in the case of CATHARINE N. HORTON vs. The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, was decided in the Court of Common Pleas, at Special Term, yesterday, by Judge DALY. It is an action to recover $5,000, the amount of a policy issued by defendant upon the life of N. HOWARD HORTON, the husband of the plaintiff, payable to the husband at the end of twenty years, if he lived so long, but to his wife, if he died in the meantime.

The Company refuse to pay on the ground of a breach of warranty. They allege in their answer that the insured when he took out the policy made representations that he had never been addicted to the excessive or intemperate use of liquors, and did not then use the same as a habitual beverage. That these representations were warranted by the insured, and that it was agreed if they were false the policy should be void. The Company allege that these representations were false. The Company further allege in their answer that the death of the insured was caused by intemperance, and that he fell from a horse-car while so intoxicated as to be unable to take reasonable care of his life and health, and died from injuries then received. The plaintiff moved that the allegations as to the cause of the insured's death and his condition at the time of the accident be struck out of the answer as irrelevant. Mr. THOMAS ALLISON, counsel for the plaintiff, argued that the motion should be granted, because there was no warranty against any cause of death, excepting the cause of suicide; that the warranty as to the insured's habits related only to the time of taking out the policy, and prior thereto; that the materiality of the warranty was not a question before the Court, but merely the truth of the warranty, and that while the plaintiff denied the allegations made, yet she should not be put to the trial thereof, as they were wholly immaterial.

Mr. S. B. HINGENBOTAM, for the Company, argued that the motion should be denied, because the most plaintiff could claim was, that the question was a doubtful one, and should be left for decision at the trial, where defendant could except to the ruling there made and appeal therefrom; that the Company had to prove that the insured was addicted to intemperance, and this required proof extending over a period of time, and not an isolated case of intemperance, and that death caused by intemperance would prove the materiality of the representations.

In reply, Mr. ALLISON urged that the question could be more thoroughly investigated and accurately decided on this motion than at trial; that this motion presented only this one question, and would be decided on deliberation, while at trial there would be many questions and no deliberation; that if this motion were granted the Company could appeal, and on appeal present this question alone for decision, and therefore lose nothing which they could gain on the trial: whereas the plaintiff could not appeal if the motion were denied; and that on the grounds before urged, the motion should be granted.

In rendering his decision granting plaintiff's motion to strike out the allegation relating to the manner in which the insured came to his death, Judge DALY gives his opinion of the law as follows:

In order to procure the insurance which is the basis of this action, the plaintiff and the insured, who was her husband, before the policy was issued made a statement in writing that the insured, N. HOWARD HORTON, "had never been addicted to the excessive or intemperate use of alcoholic stimulants, and that he did not use intoxicating drinks habitually as a beverage." By the terms and conditions of the policy thereupon issued, the assured and the plaintiff warranted the said statement to be in all respects true. As defense to this action upon the policy after the death of the insured, the defendant avers that said statement was untrue when it was made, and fraudulent; also, that "the death of the insured was caused by the use of intoxicating liquors, and that he fell from a horse-car while in a state of intoxication caused by alcoholic liquors, and that his death resulted from injury then received while in a state of intoxication, which rendered him unfit and unable to take reasonable care of his life and health." The plaintiff now moves to strike out the last averment as irrelevant. It will be seen, from the answer, that the defendant, alleging that the insured, at the time of making his aforesaid statement, "was addicted to the intemperate use of alcoholic stimulants, and that he did habitually use intoxicating drinks as a beverage," (see fourth clause of the answer,) relies for avoiding the policy, first, on the fraudulent representation, and second, on the warranty. (Answer, second and fourth clauses.) If defendant had relied upon the fraudulent representation alone, I can see that the averment charged to be irrelevant should be permitted to stand. The case of WALTON vs. Nat. F. Life Ins. Co., 20 N. Y., 32,) holds that a fraudulent misrepresentation made by the applicant, although it is not material to the risk, will avoid the policy if it be material in the judgment of the insurer, and induces him to take the risk; but the cases in the Court of Errors (16 Wend., 481) and the Court of Appeals (20 N. Y., 57) hold the contrary doctrine, and the latter would probably govern in the case at issue, since the addiction of the insured to the intemperate use of alcoholic beverages would be material to the risk on two grounds: Either by affecting the general vitality of the insured, or by placing him at times in a condition which prevented his keeping himself out of ordinary danger, and which placed him in danger of death on occasions not hazardous to a sober man. The Courts would very properly permit the insurer then to plead facts showing the particular circumstances attending the death of the deceased, whether directly or remotely induced by habits of intoxication, to establish the materiality of the representation. [illegible] the Court might require such facts to be pleaded by defendant to prevent surprise, on the trial, to the plaintiff. Of course it would be imperative in such case to prove the habit of intoxication, and not the isolated fact of death while in that state. But where, as in this case, the insurer is protected by a warranty, the manner of the death of the insured, under what circumstances, or through what indulgence in alcoholic beverages, is wholly immaterial. The warranty set up in this case by the defendant is affirmative and not promissory, and the only fact to be ascertained is whether at the time of making that warranty the insured was then, or had ever been, addicted to the excessive or intemperate use of alcoholic stimulants, or did then use intoxicating drinks habitually, as a beverage. If that fact be found the warranty operates and the defendants must recover. If the plaintiff would recover the representation warranted must be literally true, and it does not matter whether the representation warranted is material to the risk or not. (Chase vs. Hamilton Insurance Company, 20 N. Y., 52; Ripley vs. Ætna Insurance Company, 30 N. Y., 163.) The Court has no right to submit to the jury any question except as to the truth of the representation warranted. (20 N. Y., 90.) It follows, therefore, that the intoxication or habits of intoxication of the insured, or his use of alcoholic stimulants subsequent to the issuing of the policy, and the manner of his death, so far as intoxication may have directly or remotely caused it, are wholly immaterial to affect the warranty. No proof on these points need be adduced by the defendant on the trial, and any averment concerning them is plainly irrelevant in the pleading.

The motion was granted.

Messrs. AVERILL, ALLISON and AVERILL appeared for the plaintiff; S. B. HIGINBOTHAM and HENRY DAY for defendant.

BOOK TRADE SALES.

Second Day—Increase of the Number of Buyers and of Competition—Good Books Bring Good Prices.

The second day's trade sale of books in LEAVITT, STREBEIGH & CO.'S rooms, in Clinton-Hall, commenced with HURD & HOUGHTON'S invoice of standard works, in which there were 3 sets of BACON'S works. 12 of COOPER'S, 41 of DICKENS', 10 of MACAULAY'S "History of England," 10 of PALFREY'S "History of New-Orleans," 25 of SCOTT'S "Poetical Works," 20 of BURNS', 20 of BYRON'S, &c., together with a large number of miscellaneous illustrated books and juvenile and toy books, which brought very good average prices.

BACON'S works, 15 volumes, crown, 8vo., extra cloth, $1 12½ per volume.

COOPER'S novels, 32 volumes, 16mo, extra cloth—first lot, 75 cents per volume; second lot, 72½ cents. Same, illustrated, $1 80.

Household edition of DICKENS, 54 volumes, 16mo, crape cloth, 57½ cents per volume. Same, Riverside edition, 28 volumes, crown 8vo, extra cloth, $1 15. Same, globe edition, 14 volumes, 16mo, extra cloth, 87½ cents; half calf, $1 87½. MACAULAY'S "History of England," PALFREY'S "History of New England." SCOTT'S, BURNS', BYRON'S and GOLDSMITH'S works, 12mo, cloth, 82½c.@37½c. per volume.

Among the illustrated books: "Pictures of Society," royal 8vo, morocco, full gilt, $7; "Twenty-third Psalm," 4to, extra cloth, full gilt, $1 30; "Kings of the Orient," 4to, extra cloth, full gilt, 85 cents; "Forest Pictures," "Forest Hymn," "In the Woods with Bryant," &c., 4to, cloth, full gilt, $1 50; "Christmas Poems," 4to, extra cloth, full gilt, $1 45; "Undine and Other Stories," crown 8vo, extra cloth, gilt, $1 40; DARLEY'S "Sketches Abroad," 4to, $1 65; same, full gilt, $2 40; "War Pictures," 90 cents; "The Vagabonds," 4to, extra cloth, $1 03; "Picciola," "Lalla Rookh," "Paul and Virginia," and "Lady of the Lake," crown 8vo, extra cloth, gilt, $1 30 to $1 40.

The "Riverside Classics," which comprise choice works in prose and poetry of PICCIOLA, 16mo, cloth, illustrated; "Mrs. Caudle's Curtain Lectures," 16mo., extra cloth; "Paradise Lost," "Lalla Rookh," "Paul and Virginia," "Undine," "Fair D'Alliza," and "Lady of the Lake," ditto, brought 75 cents; trade price, $1 25. Dr. W. W. HALL'S "Medical Works" sold for 87½ and 90 cents; trade price, $1 50. "Wonder Stories for Children," containing 92 illustrations, $1 30; trade price, $2 25. FITZHUGH LUDLOW'S "Heart of the Continent," illustrated, and containing interesting chapters on Mormonism, sold for $1 45 and $2; trade price, $3 75.

It very frequently happens that books, when put up a second time, bring from ten to fifty cents less or more than the price obtained on the first call. The reason is that at these sales there are always new and inexperienced men who run prices up, and when they have secured all they want, the balance, if any, is again put up, and the result is that a higher price is obtained, as in the case of the "Heart of the Continent," above noted, which sold on the first call for $1 45, and on the second for $2. In the case of HOLE'S "Biographical Dictionary," the result was the other way, the first call bringing $1, and the second, 175 cents. Political memoirs are not in much demand, else the "Official Life of Governor John A. Andrew," of Massachusetts, which trades for $1 25, would bring more than 27½ cents on first call, and 17½ cents on second. WESTERVELT'S "Life of Prof. Van Der Palm, of Leyden University," which was recommended as a good book to go asleep on, was sold for 15 cents; its trade price is $1 75. SWINBURNE'S "Chastelard" sold for 10 and 15 cents; trade price, $1. Mrs. H. D. WILLIAMS' "Year in China," crown 8vo, cloth, with an introduction by W. C. BRYANT, brought 55 cents; trade price, $1 50. The whole number of COOPER'S novels sold, of HURD & HOUGHTON'S consignment, was 864 volumes, ranging from 67½ cents to $1 80 a volume. Of DICKENS' works the Riverside edition, 560 volumes, 54 cents to 57½ cents a volume; same, Globe edition, 600 volumes, 87½ cents to 90 cents a volume. Of juvenile and toy books about 10,000, ranging from 5 to 50 cents each.

ARTHUR'S "Words of Cheer," a very fine edition, comprising six popular books which retail at $1 50, sold for 75 cents each—considered a very good price; the same in muslin, full gilt, with sixteen illustrations, 95 cents to $1, retail price $2 25, and the same in morocco, paneled, full gilt, $1 42½, trade price $3. The "Young Ladies' Parlor Library," four volumes, 12mo, muslin, 55 cents and 42½ cents retail price $1 50. "Library of Elegant Pastime," 12mo, muslin 60 cents, full gilt 87½ cents, retail $1 50 and $2 25. GROSH'S "Odd-fellows' Improved Manual," 12mo, 390 pages, cloth, gilt back and side, $1 10, retail $2; same, 32mo, in morocco imitation, pocket edition, full gilt, 80 cents, retail $3 25; same in German, 85 cents. SILLIMAN'S "Natural Philosophy," $2 30; "Chemistry," $1 20, retail $3 50 and $2. DANA'S "Geology," muslin, $3 35, retail $5; same in half morocco, $4. DANA'S "Text Book of Geology," square 12mo, muslin, beveled, $1 35, retail $2. GREENFIELD'S "Greek Testament," with Lexicon, 32mo, cloth, $1 25 and $1 35; same, embossed roan red edges, $1 60, retail $2 50; same, in turkey morocco, full flexible, $1 80, retail $3 25. LOVELL'S "School Dialogues" at 85 cents, closed the invoice of THEODORE BLISS & CO., of Philadelphia, and as Mr. LEAVITT retired from the hammer he jocosely introduced his successor, FOSTER, as the "American Tract Society," whose invoice next came up for sale. It consisted mainly of Sunday-school books in sets in boxes, and brought from 18 to 85 cents a volume. When SARGENT'S "Temperance Tales" 6 volumes, 18mo, were put up, some one suggested that they would be good reading for "Joe," who remarked that he was already well up in temperance literature, and was afraid to read more than he could practice. The Society's dollar-books (to the trade) brought 30 and 35 cents a volume, while some at $1 75 brought 80 cents; at $2 but 50 cents, and some at 85 cents (trade) brought 35 cents, while 80-cent books sold from 25 to 40 cents; 75-cent books went for 35, 70 for 30; 60 for 26 to 31 cents; 50 for 23; 40 for 22, and 20 and 40 for 20 cents. Although such good prices were paid for many of these books, it was done, as some of the purchasers remarked, more as an advertisement for their business than for any profit they expected to make on them. They are all neatly bound and look well on book shelves, where, as remarked, some of them would stay for a thousand years. The character of the localities are sometimes indicated by the character of the books purchased. For instance, the largest readers in some places are theological students, and the purchasers at the trade-sale buy largely of theological works. Others, again, buy largely of SCOTT'S, BULWER'S, DICKENS' and other novels, to suit the tastes of their neighbors, and so it goes around.

The best invoice offered yesterday was that of CLARK & MAYNARD, of Barclay-street, New-York City, thought to be, indeed, the best on the catalogue. It was sold by FOSTER, and brought some capital prices. Books that trade for $1 50 brought 90 cents; $5 50 books brought $3 50; 50 cent books, 30; 40 cent books, 25; and 35 cent books, 20. BURKITT'S "Notes on the New Testament," 8vo, sheep, $1 65 per volume; trade price, $6. WILLIS' Poems, illustrated edition, 4to, cloth, full gilt, $3 50 and $3 70; same, turkey, antique, $6; trade prices, $6 and $10. Mrs. E. H. J. CLEVELAND'S "No Sects in Heaven," and other poems, beautifully printed on tinted paper, square 24mo, gilt edges, brought 65 cents, and elicited the comment from "Joe" FOSTER that as there are no sects in Heaven none of his hearers could go there. WILLIS' Poems, in blue and gold editions, brought 90 cents, while SCHILLER'S Poems and Ballads sold for 20 cents, both being the same price to the trade, 20 cents. The juvenile series of this firm, including the Fanny Fern Library, the Boys' Treasury of Sports, Swiss Family Robinson, ABBOTT'S books, and others of that class, brought from 22 to 75 cents each.

After the dinner vacation the invoice of CHAS. DE SILVER, of Philadelphia, consisting mainly of school and classical books, was taken up and some of them brought more than the retail price, as for instance, STEEL'S "Book of Drawing-Room Plays and Evening Amusements," which sells at $1 75, brought $1 95. POLLOCK, of Philadelphia, had a small invoice of histories and novels which were easily disposed of and at good prices, $8 books bringing $6. LITTLE, BROWN & CO.'S invoice followed. It contained some excellent standard works such as "Bancroft's United States," 8vo, cloth, with portrait and maps, which brought $1 65 and $1 55; library style, $2 12½; half calf marbled edges, $3; and full calf, $3 50 per volume. BARTLETT'S "Familiar Quotations," a $3 book, sold for $1 90 and $1 80, and the same with gilt edges, cloth, $2 25. The "British Essayists," 12mo boards, large paper, which sell for $95 a set, brought 60 cents per volume; the select edition of the same, 18 vols. in 16mo calf, $1 80. BURKE'S works, new and revised edition, 12 vols. crown, 8vo, cloth, ranged from $1 25 to $2. FLETCHER and KIDDER'S "Brazil and the Brazilians," illustrated with 150 wood cuts, 8vo, cloth, gilt tops, a $4 50 book, sold for $2 40; other styles of the same went from 80 cents to $1 10; GLADSTONE'S "Gods and Men in the Heroic Age," crown, 8vo, cloth, brought $1 [illegible] retails at $2 50; GRIMM'S "Michael Angelo," [illegible] book, at $1 40; "The Harvard Memorial," 8vo, cloth, retail $7 50, sold for $3 25; SHAKESPEARE'S works, by RICHARD GRANT WHITE, 12mo, cloth, $3 50 per volume; EVERETT'S "Life and Works of DANIEL WEBSTER," thirteenth edition, 8vo, cloth, with plates, brought $1 35; it retails for $3 a volume.

There was a nice lot of English books in this invoice, such as A. BECKET'S "Comic Histories of England and Rome," which went off at $5 65; BELL'S "Anatomy of Expression," at $5 and $5 25; BLACK'S "Atlas of the World," $18; BRANDE & CO.'S "Dictionary of Science, Literature and Art," $4 87½; CAMPBELL'S "Lives of the Lord Chancellors and Keepers of the Great Seal," $8; and MARY C. CLARKE'S "Concordance to Shakespeare," a $10 book, which sold for $8 and $7 25. The "Encyclopedia Britannica," edited by Prof. TRAILL, and containing upward of 500 steel engravings and numerous wood cuts, in 22 volumes, 4to, half Russia marbled edges, $5 85 a volume. The net price of the set is $180. Dr. WM. SMITH'S "Bible Dictionaries" ran from $2 25 to $4 55 a volume. There was greater competition for these books than for any that were offered during the day.

J. W. BOUTON'S (No. 706 Broadway) invoice was not large, but it was good, and realized fair prices. The London Printing and Publishing Company of New-York had only an excellent series of the cartoons of RAPHAEL to offer, and GEO. F. COOLEDGE, of this City, put up fifty dozen of Mrs. JANE TAYLOR'S "Know Thyself." HOWE & FERRY'S list was also small, and embraced three or four series of juvenile books, in boxes, which brought from 30 to 55 cents each. The largest afternoon invoice sold was that of JAMES MILLER, of No. 647 Broadway, which was not completed when the hour for adjournment for supper arrived. They were mostly juvenile books, and brought medium fair prices. His catalogue was finished in the evening, and the magnificent invoice of W. W. HARDING, of Philadelphia, consisting of cabinet photograph albums, for centre-table, quartos, oblongs, &c., and Bibles and Testaments in every size and style of binding, and some of them illustrated, were offered, and brought more than average prices. The day's sale closed with LEE & WALKER'S (Philadelphia) invoice of juvenile and miscellaneous works.

Several new dealers have arrived since Thursday, among whom are the following-named gentlemen: Geo. H. Hines & Co., Troy, N. Y.; Geo. H. Hare, San José, Cal.; Chas. A. Burnham, of Norwich, Conn.; A. B. Deming, Middletown, N. Y.; W. N. & W. F. Porter, Warren, Ohio; J. H. Spalter & Co., Keene, N. H.; Geo. H. Blanchard & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio; J. W. McIntyre, St. Louis, Mo.; F. E. Grafton, Montreal, Canada; Michael Murphy, Philadelphia, Penn.; Harrison, Gibson & Co., Williamsport, Penn.; Geo. E. Stevens & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio; Byron & Main, Batavia, N. Y.; S. N. Main, Randolph, N. Y.; T. H. Hall, St. John, N. B.; E. D. Merriam, Greenfield, Mass., and others.

Some of the very finest albums sold for $7. They cost $10 to make them, and retailed for $30. Others ran from $1 62½ to $3 75, Turkey morocco, fifty pictures, and the 200-picture albums of different sizes brought from $4 25 to $6 87½. Three of the most exquisite books ever made, and now for the first time offered to the public, were sold for $6 87½, $7 62½ and $8 25, each. The trade price of the same would range from $7 50 to $9. The Bibles and Testments offered by this house, although printed from new plates and gotten up in the very best style, did not in many instances repay the cost of manufacture.

Today's sale will open with the invoice of Claxton, Remsen & Haffelfinger, of Philadelphia, and will embrace also the catalogue of Saver, Barnes & Potts, of Philadelphia; W. J. Pooley, of Franklin-square, New-York; S. R. Wells, New-York; J. P. Morton & Co., Louisville, Ky.; William Rutter & Co., Philadelphia; Hammersley & Co., Hartford, and the Claremont Manufacturing Company, of Claremont, N. H.

THE LINCOLN STATUE.

The Work of Art Placed in Position at Union-Square—How it Looks.

The statue of ABRAHAM LINCOLN on Union-square, erected under the auspices of the Union League Club, was placed in position yesterday morning without any formal ceremony. There was a large crowd present, however, who witnessed the proceedings with much interest. At an early hour the base of the monument, the largest stone ever quarried in America, weighing over seventeen tons, was properly placed in the receptacle prepared for it. The second stone was laid upon this base. A third stone was placed upon this, thus completing the pedestal. The middle stone weighs 16,000, and the upper 8,000. The height of the pedestal is exactly 24 feet. The statue itself is nearly eleven feet high. It is of bronze, and weighs nearly 3,000 pounds. It was designed by Mr. BROWN, the well-known sculptor. The statue was cast by the Wood Bronze Company, in Philadelphia, and was finished nearly a year ago. Since its completion it has been carefully secreted from the public gaze in a bonded warehouse on South-street, awaiting the completion of the base. The polishing and other minor details have just been finished. The base on which the statue stands is of gray granite, from Dix Island, (Me.) quarries. The stone is of the most durable kind known to builders, and is said to be susceptible of a high polish, a fact which has been taken advantage of by the sculptor. Around the upper stone a galaxy of stars are cut, representing each State in the Union.

The statue represents our deceased President in citizen's clothes, the whole covered in a great degree by an ancient "Roman Toga," which is carelessly thrown around his shoulders. The well-known face is reproduced with almost photographic accuracy. In his left hand he holds the proclamation of emancipation. A handsome fence will be erected around the base of the statue.

The following is the full text of the will of Admiral FARRAGUT, a synopsis of which was published exclusively in the TIMES several days ago:

EDGAR T. WELLES, Hartford, Conn.

As previously stated, the value of the property left by the Admiral is $200,000.

The Farragut Obsequies.

The Mayor yesterday addressed a letter to the Secretary of the Navy, asking that a ship of war, with a suitable guard of honor, be detailed to convey the remains of Admiral FARRAGUT from their present resting place to this City. Mr. JAMES FISK, Jr., it is understood, has already made an offer of a steamer suitable for the purpose of conveying the Admiral's remains to their final resting place. It will be seen, however, by the following letter, that, in compliance with the Mayor's request, a United States steamer will be dispatched to Portsmouth to convey hither the remains of the great Admiral:

OFFICE OF THE NAVAL OFFICER,
NEW-YORK, Sept. 16, 1870.

Hon. A. Oakey Hall, Mayor New-York City:

SIR: The Honorable Secretary of the Navy has this day requested me to inform you that the proper authorities at the Brooklyn Navy-yard have been instructed to dispatch the United States steamer Courier to Portsmouth, N. H., to convey hither the body of the late Admiral FARRAGUT, whenever the day for the public obsequies in this City is definitely fixed. I am, very respectfully, yours,

(Signed,) M. H. GRINNELL,
Naval Officer.

The Cold Spring Robbery and Murder.

CHARLES TRUMPBOUR, the robber of the teller of the Fishkill National Bank, Mr. W. A. BROWNING, and the murderer of EDWARD JONES, a coachman, who attempted his arrest at Cold Spring, was arraigned at the Putnam County Court-house, on Tuesday, and fully indicted by the Grand Jury for the robbery. He pleaded guilty to the charge. It was not designed to press the matter of the murder before the Court at this term, in order that TRUMPBOUR may be used as a witness against his accomplice, WM. CONROY. The former is confined in the Carmel Jail, and professes great penitence, and receives and dispatches letters of a serious tone, mainly dwelling upon the dreadful crimes of his life. Mr. S. A. HOYT, President, and Mr. W. A. BROWNING, teller of the bank, were present to prosecute the charge. The Cold Spring citizens have a Vigilance Committee, which will, in conjunction with the bank officials, leave nothing undone to secure the ends of justice in that trial. They have a fund, and even now have detectives engaged in hunting out all the accomplices to this affair. They are also on the trail of other men whose crimes have heretofore gone unpunished. CONROY is in the Goshen (Orange County) Jail, and occupies the same cell with Lieut. BUFFUM, the "crazy" Newburg murderer. CONROY will be arraigned before the Grand Jury at their meeting on the 25th inst. It is likely that he will be indicted as an accessory to the robbery, and be tried in Putnam County.

THE SCHOOL SCANDAL AGAIN.

The Case of Hennessey and the Board of Education—Application for a Writ of Certiorari.

Judge INGRAHAM, of the Supreme Court, listened to an argument, yesterday, at Chambers, in the case of JOHN R. HENNESSEY vs. The Board of Education. The facts in the matter have been frequently published. Mr. JOHN R. HENNESSEY, a School Trustee of the Seventeenth Ward of this City, was, a few months ago, it will be remembered, put upon trial before a standing committee of the Board of Education on the charge of "disgraceful and immoral conduct" as a school officer; and then there was a specific charge to the effect that he had been guilty of receiving a bribe of $100 from a friend or relative of Miss MARY E. CANNON, for his influence in obtaining for Miss CANNON a situation as teacher in a night school, with the promise that when the night school closed, she should have a situation as teacher in a day school in the Seventeenth Ward. Charges of this nature having been presented to the Board of Education, that body referred the matter to the Standing Committee on Teachers, which Committee consisted of three. A long examination was had before this Committee, during which eighteen witnesses were examined. The Board of Education and Mr. HENNESSEY were both represented by counsel. When the testimony was all in, the Committee submitted their report to the Board, in which they recommended that for "disgraceful and immoral conduct he be removed." The following is taken, verbatim, from the report of the Committee:

Whereas, Mr. HENNESSEY, by his careless and indiscreet conduct in matters deeply affecting our cherished system of public instruction, has seriously compromised his standing and usefulness as a school officer, we, therefore, recommend his removal from office.

The Board of Education, acting upon this report, voted to remove Mr. HENNESSEY—eight to one—and his place was thereupon declared vacant. This happened some time in May last. In July following an application was made to the Supreme Court by Mr. HENNESSEY'S counsel for a writ of mandamus to compel the Board to reinstate him. The ground taken then was that there was no law authorizing the Board of Education to deprive a school trustee of his office. The argument was at the time fully reported. The Court, after deliberation, denied the motion for a mandamus.

Yesterday, Messrs. W. W. GAGE and M. LEVERSON made a motion at Chambers of the Supreme Court, for an order directing a certiorari, the object of which is to bring up all the proceedings in the case to the General Term of this Court. The counsel claimed that great injustice had been done to Mr. HENNESSEY; that as a matter of law the whole investigation had been irregular; that the Board of Education should have investigated the case as a Board, or else sent it to a special committee; that there is no law to authorize a reference of the case to a Standing Committee on Teachers, as in this instance. It was also contended that one of the three Committee-men was absent when testimony in the case was taken, upon at least two occasions; that, as appears by their report, they really acquitted Mr. HENNESSEY of the charge which had been preferred against him, but found him guilty of "careless and indiscreet conduct," a crime or offence unknown to the law. The following is the language of the statute:

"The Board of Education shall have power to remove from office any school officer who shall have been guilty of immoral or disgraceful conduct in any matter connected with his official duties, or which tends to the discredit of the school system."

Mr. VANDERPOEL, in behalf of the Board of Education, insisted that the rule was well settled that an application for a writ of certiorari was a matter within the sound discretion of the Court

The Court took the papers and reserved the decision.

CRICKET.

St. George vs. Young America—Decisive Victory of the Latter.

Yesterday the contest between these Clubs, which was commenced on Thursday, was resumed, the St. George players taking their positions at the bat shortly after noon, NORLEY and STEAD resuming their places at the wickets. The first ball disposed of NORLEY, who retired for a score of 26 obtained the previous day, BUSSIER catching him out at "point" off STOCKER, who went on to bowl at C. NEWHALL'S end. BROWN then joined STEAD, and together they ran the totals up to 89 before they were parted, BROWN scoring a dozen in good style. STEAD was then joined by BUTTERFIELD, and 92 had been scored, when the latter was caught out, STEAD carrying his bat out for 30, in which a 6 a 4 and 3 threes were prominent. This left the Young America 11 the victors with one innings and eight runs to spare, the worst defeat the St. George Club have sustained for the past fifteen years. We append the full score:

More Census Complaints Disproved.

There have been very few complaints made at the Marshal's office against the census thus far, notwithstanding Gen. SHARPE'S request to have them reported to him. The few which have been made have been found to be unfounded on investigation. Yesterday Mr. SIDNEY E. MORSE, formerly of No. 9 West Fiftieth-street, called at the office and said he was aware that his name had been taken, but was desirous of seeing how the work had been done. WILLIAM L. COLE, of No. 324 East Fourteenth-street, editor of the Irish American, claimed that he had not been enumerated; but his charge was found to be incorrect, by reference to the returns. THOMAS W. CASEY, a liquor-dealer, corner of Centre and Walker streets, insisted that he had not seen an enumerator at his place. He was confronted by MR. AUGUSTUS BURKHARD, the enumerator of the district, and the latter identified him as one of the persons whom he had called on. His returns proved the truth of his assertion.

A BURNING SHAME.

Protest from Commissioner Tweed Against the Cremin Gas-Burner and Reflector Iniquity.

The following communication to the Common Council from WILLIAM M. TWEED, Commissioner of the Department of Public Works, tells its own story:

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,
COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE, Sept. 8, 1870.

To the Honorable the Common Council of the City of New-York:

GENTLEMEN: After mature reflection, I have decided to address you this communication on the subject of the resolution pending before your honorable body directing me, as Commissioner of Public Works, to attach the Cremin gas-burner and reflector to each of the public gas-lamps in all the streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, highways and public places within the corporate limits of the City of New-York, at an expense not exceeding $15 per lamp.

If this resolution is finally passed by your Honorable Body, it cannot be carried into effect by this department, because there is no legal warrant for its adoption. The Common Council cannot incur any expense or authorise any expenditure beyond the power expressly conferred on it by law. There is no law to authorise this expenditure, and there is no fund from which an appropriation can be made for it. But the illegality of the resolution has been so fully set forth in the able veto message of his Honor the Mayor that it is unnecessary for me to present any additional arguments on that point. The resolution would be inoperative and a dead letter except as it may hereafter be the subject of a claim before the Legislature, and the object of interested solicitation at Albany from year to year, until it should be finally added to the taxable burdens of our City. Against the creation of such claims and this kind of municipal legislation, I think you will agree with me, we should resolutely set our faces.

The enormous amount of money involved in the measure, if it should ever be consummated, the circumstances attending its passage in the Common Council, added to the considerations I have presented, must be my apology for this communication. I know that you will feel assured that what I have to say is dictated by the most friendly spirit and in the interest of our mutual desire for good government and the securing of public approval for our acts, and that you will receive it in a kind and forbearing spirit.

The resolution was passed without any examination or report of any committee, and without legal advice from the law officer of the Corporation in regard to its validity. I am sure, however, that you have individually for yourselves examined the subject, or been satisfied, from representations made to you from sources you deemed reliable, that the measure would result to the advantage of the City, or it would not have received your votes. But the departure in a matter of such grave magnitude from the ordinary course in legislative and deliberative bodies of an examination by a committee and a public hearing, was calculated to create popular apprehension, and work injustice to yourselves.

You are aware that since the original action of your honorable body, the proposition has been generally disapproved by our citizens and condemned by the Press. This alone should be sufficient, I submit, to induce you to reconsider your action. But when the discussion develops the invalidity of the proposed act, it would seem to be imperative that the public voice should be absolutely obeyed, and the scheme abandoned. The delay which has taken place since the message of his Honor the Mayor leads me to the hope that this may be your conviction of your duty. I desire to lend my support to such a conclusion. We are clothed with new powers and charged with additional responsibilities by the action of the Legislature restoring to our City its municipal powers and the right of local self-government. The dominant political party of our City, of which you and I are representatives, have demanded this restoration of authority as being the right of our citizens, and calculated to provide good government and direct and wholesome responsibility. It was my province to take part in securing this great act of justice to our City, and I feel a deep and abiding interest that the change shall accomplish all that was claimed for it and secure the welfare of the people. I believe all the departments are unmistakably exhibiting the wisdom of the change. In regard to the department over which I have the honor to preside, I invite from all our citizens, as well as your Honorable Body, the closest scrutiny into all its acts, and I assure you that whenever any just ground of complaint is presented from any source, immediate redress will follow. Your Honorable Body have proceeded in a manner free from all the objections which applied to your predecessors, and with public approval, except, if I may be permitted to say so, in the instance under consideration, which, however just you may believe it, is disapproved by the community. Public approval is the one sure test and guide of official action. Seeking and securing that for all our acts, we can do no wrong.

The reconsideration of the measure, in deference to public sentiment, would in my judgment be a concession which could not fail to be appreciated. It would establish the disinterestedness of your motives, enhance public confidence in our government, prove to our constituents that we have a due sense of our responsibility, and show that the public voice is not raised in vain,

Very respectfully,

WILLIAM M. TWEED.
Commissioner of Public Works.

After the foregoing communication was read in the Board of Aldermen, a resolution was unanimously adopted recalling from the Board of Assistant Aldermen the resolution in favor of the Cremin gas-burner and reflector, referred to in the foregoing communication.

POLICE MATTERS.

Promotions—Orders—Dismissal—Street Obstructions and Other Nuisances.

At a meeting of the Board of Police, yesterday afternoon, a very large number of judgments were rendered in cases lately tried before the Commissioners in open session, in two-thirds of which the complaints were dismissed or the nominal punishment of a reprimand awarded. The only dismissal from the force was that of JEREMIAH T. DYNAN, of the Thirtieth Precinct. Sergt. PETER YULE, Jr., of the Central Office, was promoted to be Acting Captain of the Sanitary Company vice LORD, deceased, and Sergt. WILLIAM MCCLARY, of the Twenty-eighth Precinct, to be Acting Captain of the Third Precinct, in place of DICKSON, resigned.

President BOSWORTH, as the Acting Superintendent, has issued the following order:

OFFICE OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, NO. 300 MULBERRY-STREET,
NEW-YORK, Sept. 15, 1870.

To Captains of Police:

GENERAL ORDER NO. 29.—The following rule and regulation was adopted by the Board of Police at a meeting held on the 13th inst., and is herewith transmitted for the information and guidance of the force:

"Whenever in any precinct an obstruction or obstructions in the street shall exist, which can be removed, appropriately and readily, to the Corporation-yard, and which, in the opinion of the officer in command should be removed, in order to prevent accidents to persons, animals or vehicles lawfully in the street, he shall cause such obstruction or obstructions to be removed without delay to the Corporation-yard, near Eleventh-street and North River, and present his bill of reasonable charges therefor at the office of the Mayor (where it will be paid.")

Your attention is also called to Rule No. 4 of the Night Scavengers' License, issued by the Board of Health, which reads as follows: "Drivers shall take the nearest direct route, east or west, to the river, and proceed up or down, as the case may be, on the street adjoining the dumping docks, and return in the same manner." This rule is being frequently violated by the drivers selecting for their route to and from the dumping docks the best paved streets, without any regard to the nearest direct route thereto; also in this, that instead of going up or down the river street, or street adjoining the dumping docks, as required by the rule, the Eighth and Ninth avenues on the west side, and Third, Lexington and Second avenues on the east side, are used for that purpose. By a resolution of the Police Board, passed on the 13th inst., you are required, in every case of a violation of this rule, to report the same in writing to this office, giving the name of the driver and the number of his cart.

J. S. BOSWORTH, President.

New Prayer-Book for Episcopalians.

Bishop DOANE, of Albany, has approved of a new Episcopal prayer-book, to be used in his Diocese. He has added the celebrated "Scotch office" of the Holy Communion, in which the objective and real presence of Christ in the sacrament is taught.

The Police Rencontre With Harbor Thieves—Arrest of Men Supposed to be the Culprits.

It was announced in the TIMES of yesterday that Officers ROSE and MCCARTY, of the Twenty-first Precinct, on the previous morning about 3 o'clock, had a rencontre with two river thieves, during which shots were exchanged between the parties, one of which took effect on one of the thieves, who was seen to fall in the boat, and heard to exclaim that he was shot. The thieves escaped at the time, but yesterday Detectives RICHARD KING and HOLLY LYONS, of the Tenth Precinct, arrested LARRY COFFEE and WILLIAM SHAY, who are supposed to be the persons implicated in the affair. From information they received the officers watched COFFEE yesterday morning as he went into the house No. 60 Allen-street. They arrested him when he came out, and he explained that he had been in to see a friend whose leg had been injured by a pile of lumber falling upon him. The officers then entered the house where they arrested SHAY, who had a pistol-shot wound in the neck, the ball having entered the left side and being lodged apparently under the right ear. SHAY said he had been wounded in an affray in James-street about 8 o'clock Tuesday night, but the Police have not heard of any such affair and discredit his story, more especially as SHAY told the physician he summoned on Thursday that he had been shot about 3 o'clock in the morning, but refused to say where the affray had occurred. Both prisoners were taken to Police Headquarters yesterday afternoon, where they persistently denied all knowledge of any conflict with policemen, even when confronted with and, as they supposed, identified by Officers ROSE and MCCARTY. The wound of SHAY was examined by Police Surgeon MOTT, who found that the ball, glancing upward, had passed through the mouth and lodged in the right side of the neck, but that it was impossible to extract the ball in the present condition of the wound. The prisoners were then taken to the Essex Market Police Court, where they were remanded to the Eldridge-street Police station, to give Detectives KING and LYONS time to make further investigations.

THE SHOVEL MURDER.

Inquest by Coroner Keenan—Testimony of Sophia Basseman, Mr. Wilkins and Others—Verdict of the Jury.

Yesterday morning Coroner KEENAN held an inquest in the case of DAVID REISCHER, who was struck on the head with a shovel, last Monday, on First-avenue, near Forty-seventh-street, and died at Bellevue Hospital. There were not many persons present in the room at the City Hall, where the proceedings were conducted. The prisoners, THOS. MCCARTHY and JOHN QUINN, both young men, sat near the Coroner's desk and listened to the testimony with apparent indifference.

SOPHIA BASSEMAN, being duly sworn, said: I reside at No. 831 First-avenue; about half-past twelve on Monday, Sept. 12, while standing at my door on the sidewalk, I heard a noise at the corner of First-avenue and Forty-seventh-street, and looking that way saw Mr. WILKINS and the prisoners fighting; Mrs. WILKINS came from the grocery-store on First-avenue, corner of Forty-seventh-street, to take her husband's part and took him into the store; Mr. REYNER assisted Mrs. WILKINS in getting Mr. WILKINS away from the prisoners, who then took some potatoes from a barrel in front of Mrs. WILKINS' store and threw them at the windows of Mr. REYNER'S lager-beer saloon, breaking two panes of glass; Mr. REYNER closed his store, and JOHN QUINN, one of the prisoners, then took a shovel from the coal-box and aimed at Mr. REYNER, who avoided it by running into the store and shutting the door; there was a crowd of men standing in front of WILKINS' store, the deceased among them; QUINN struck deceased with the flat part of the shovel on the left side of his head, knocking him down; the prisoner dropped the shovel then and walked toward Forty-sixth-street; deceased was brought into the barber's shop, a few doors from Mr. WILKINS', and thence to Bellevue Hospital.

CHAS. WILKINS was next called, and testified: I reside at No. 839 First-avenue, corner of Forty-seventh-street, where I keep a grocery-store; between twelve and one o'clock P. M., Monday last, I was in my store and heard cries of "Watch!" "Murder!" I went out and saw QUINN and MCCARTHY throwing potatoes at Mr. REYNER'S window, the glass of which they broke, when I told them to stop; MCCARTHY called me a Dutch ——, and struck me in the left eye with his fist; QUINN also hit me and knocked me down; while on the ground some one kicked me in the face, and another person struck me with the flat of a shovel; I did not see any more.

ROSINA SPOTT, being sworn, corroborated WILKINS' testimony, adding that she saw a closed knife in the hands of MCCARTHY when he struck WILKINS; I saw QUINN take the shovel, with which he struck deponent on the right elbow. She also said that she saw QUINN strike REISCHER over the back of the head, knocking him senseless; MCCARTHY then took the shovel away from QUINN and threw it in the coal-box, and MCCARTHY kicked the deceased after he fell.

EDWARD KRAUSS, a butcher residing at No. 401 East Forty-sixth-street, stated that he was in REYNER'S lager-beer saloon when the prisoners entered and became disorderly; they were put out and broke WILKINS' window-panes, who was knocked down by MCCARTHY for remonstrating; in conclusion, he said he saw QUINN strike the deceased with the shovel on the back of the head.

This closed the examination of the witnesses, and Dr. CUSHMAN concluded the testimony by reading to the jury the affidavit made by JAMES T. SYNNOTT, M. D., acting house-surgeon at Bellevue, who examined the deceased before and after death. The autopsy revealed injuries which induced the doctor to express the opinion that death was caused by pressure from extravasated blood and laceration of the brain consequent on external violence. The case was then left with the jury, who in a few minutes returned a verdict to the effect that deceased came to his death from injuries received by being struck on the head with a shovel in the hands of JOHN QUINN, on First-avenue, near Forty-seventh-street, on the 12th September, and we hold THOMAS MCCARTHY as an accessory.

The prisoners then made the following statements, respectively: MCCARTHY said: My name is THOMAS MCCARTHY; I am a native of Ireland, and twenty-eight years old; I am a boatman; with regard to the assault I know nothing, having been intoxicated when it occurred.

JOHN QUINN said: I am twenty-one years old, and a native of this City; am a boatman, and live in Thirty-eighth-street, between First and Second avenues; I do not remember anything about it.

This closed the proceedings, and the prisoners were linked wrist to wrist and taken to the Tombs.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

The Petty Offenses and Accidents of Yesterday—Larcenies and Assaults—Small Fires and Sudden Deaths.

CAROLINE HOUSTON, aged ten years, living at No. 219 Third-street, was run over, yesterday, in Avenue B, near Sixth-street, by a runaway horse, and had her left arm broken.

JOSEPP LAPP, employed as a porter by D. H. ARNOLD & CO., No. 47 Leonard-street, yesterday, fell through the hoist-way, from the second floor to the basement, and was severely injured. He was taken to his home, No. 222 Hopkins-street, Williamsburg.

PATRICK WELCH, aged thirteen years, of No. 79 Vandam-street, fell under an ice-wagon, yesterday, and had his foot crushed. He was taken to his home by the Police.

A three-story frame house in Buena Vista-avenue, Yonkers, belonging to Mrs. AMANDA COLTON was totally destroyed by fire, yesterday morning, but the loss, which is estimated at $1,500, is fully covered by insurance. The house had been vacant all Summer, and the disaster is supposed to have been caused by an incendiary.

The 12¾ P. M. train on the Hudson River Railroad, yesterday, while in Eleventh-avenue, ran over a pair of horses attached to a truck, cutting off the hind legs of both and demolishing the truck. It was necessary to kill the animals.

At the Tombs, yesterday, a notorious pickpocket was arraigned before Justice DOWLING. He was arrested at Washington Market by Roundsman CROKER while in the act of picking a lady's pocket. He was held in default of $1,000.

JOSEPH ROOD was held for examination by Justice DOWLING, at the Tombs, yesterday. CHARLES JACKSON, of No. 19 South-street, Philadelphia, made an affidavit that about six months ago he left the prisoner in charge of a club-room on the second floor of No. 149 Fulton-street, with instructions to sell the lease and the furniture. On the 28th of last month JACKSON came to this City, and found the place closed and the prisoner absent. While seeking him, a man named DAYTON handed him a letter containing several pawn tickets for the property. In it ROOD acknowledged having used the money.

Coroner ROLLINS, yesterday, received notice of the death of Mrs. REBECCA BLUMENTHAL, at Mount Sinai Hospital, caused by serious burns.

Coroner SCHIRMER, yesterday, received, notice of the death of PATRICK BRENNAN, a stone-cutter, aged thirty-five. He fell off the wall of the new cathedral, Fifth-avenue and Fifty-first-street, about ten days ago; injuring his head badly. He died at St. Luke's Hospital on Thursday night.

On Thursday afternoon Mr. JAMES MORROW, of No. 649 Hudson-street, was driving a horse and cart through West-street, and having had occasion to call at the office of Pier No. 14 North River, left the horse standing in the street. After an interval of a few minutes he returned, but found that in the meantime it had been stolen. He immediately informed an officer of the occurrence, and a few hours subsequently FREDERICK SHUBERT was arrested while attempting to dispose of the horse. He was brought up on the charge at the Essex Market Police Court, yesterday, before Judge SCOTT, and held to answer.

ELIZABETH MOORE, of No. 6 Chrystie-street, was committed for trial at the Jefferson Market Police Court, yesterday, for stealing $37 from PHILIP W. MYER, of No. 283 Fulton-avenue, Brooklyn.

A Burglar Sentenced for Twenty Years—Remarks of Judge Bedford.

The trial of WILLIAM FRANCIS for burglary in the first degree took place before Judge BEDFORD, in the Court of General Sessions, yesterday. The complainant was Dr. EDWARD H. DIXON, a well-known medical writer, of No. 42 Fifth-avenue. The latter testified that on the night of Aug. 15 he was awakened by a noise while lying in bed, and that he went in its direction, at the same time hearing retreating footsteps. Failing just then to discover their exact whereabouts he returned, and sat on the side of his bed to await further developments. In a few moments he saw the shadow of a man in the room adjoining, which was separated from his bedroom only by a partly closed folding-door, and immediately rushed in that direction, but the thief hearing him, ran swiftly down-stairs and escaped through a kitchen window in the rear. Dr. DIXON then rushed out the front door and met two officers, in company with whom he went to the rear of the house and found a man—the prisoner—in an adjoining yard, with a gold pencil stuck in the earth beside him. This pencil the complainant identified as one which had been presented to him about four years ago, and which he then put away and has not used since. During the hunt after this prisoner, it was believed that an accomplice, who was also in the house, escaped through the front door. An attempt was made to show that the accused was a vagrant, and that he used the yard as a sleeping-place. He was convicted by the jury. Judge BEDFORD, on imposing sentence, redeemed his pledge of the previous day, when he promised to inflict the full penalty of the law on robbers and burglars, whom he pronounced "would-be murderers." He said that he was in solemn earnest when he made that announcement, and his associate on the Bench, Recorder HACKETT, was similarly disposed. He gave warning to robbers and housebreakers, if convicted before that Court. He said that the case of FRANCIS might have resulted in a murder like the Nathan deed if Dr. DIXON hadn't discovered his prisoner, and hadn't pluckily planted him. He then sent FRANCIS to State Prison for twenty years.

KINGS COUNTY FAIR.

Great Preparations for the Coming Agricultural and Horticultural Exhibition—Rules and Regulations.

On the 11th of October next the first agricultural and horticultural Fair ever held in Kings County will be opened on the Prospect Park Fair Ground, under the auspices of the association controlling that pleasant resort. The name applied to the proposed exhibition, however, scarcely conveys an adequate idea of the scope of the plan involved. The managers intend, as will be seen by the premium list, not only to call upon the field, stable, garden and dairy, but to have every branch of industry practiced in the county fully represented. Exposed side by side with the finest cattle on the island will be found specimens of mechanical craft from almost every department, and along with flower and fruit will be exhibited the astonishing products of needle and loom. The object aimed at by the gentlemen managing the display is the development of the resources of the county, and, should the present effort be successful, exhibitions of the same character will take place annually hereafter. The grounds set apart for the display are all that can be desired for the purpose, embracing, as they do, ninety acres of the finest land on Long Island, situated in immediate proximity to Brooklyn. Within the inclosure shades, stalls and booths will be run up for the accommodation of exhibitors; in fact, even now busy hands are engaged in preparing for the occasion. Nothing appears to be neglected by the management that would be at all likely to add to the success of the undertaking. Premiums, amounting to over $2,000, are offered, together with numerous diplomas, as an inducement to bring out competitors. Here, however, let it be observed that this project, though looking especially to the material development of the County of Kings, contemplates the presence of produce and manufactured articles from all parts of the country.

The regulations drawn up for the guidance of exhibitors differ in no respect from those that obtain at other exhibitions of this character. All contestants will be required to pay ten per cent. of the premium set apart for the best article in the class they enter. Animals requiring extra care will have to be provided with a special keeper by the owner, although the managing committee will spare no pains to insure the safety of everything entered. Suitable fodder will be prepared on the grounds at market prices; and on the last day of the Fair, which will be the 14th of the month, a public auction will be held, at which an opportunity will be given to all either to sell or buy. The names of the judges will not be announced until the opening day, at which time a meeting of the managers will be held and the proper men be selected. The premiums consist of medals, diplomas, or in lieu thereof, at the option of the successful competitors, of money amounting in the aggregate to a large sum.

Proposition to License the Ticket Speculators.

The following ordinance will probably come before the Common Council, at its meeting on Monday next:

SECTION 1. The Mayor may from time to time grant licenses, under his hand and seal, to such persons as shall produce to him satisfactory evidence of their good character, to exercise or carry on the business of buying and selling tickets for theatres, concerts, operas, shows, and other places of public amusement or entertainment.

SEC. 2. Every person receiving such license shall pay therefor the sum of $50 yearly, to and for the use of the City.

SEC. 3. No person receiving such license shall at any time sell, ask, demand, or receive for any one ticket sold or offered for sale by him, more than fifty cents over and above the regular price asked for such ticket at the office of the place of amusement or entertainment to which the ticket would admit the holder thereof.

SEC. 4. Any person offending against the provisions of the preceding section of this ordinance, shall forfeit to the person aggrieved thereby the sum of $100, to be recovered by such aggrieved person by action to be brought in any of the Courts in this City, and shall, in addition thereto, forfeit the license aforesaid, and shall forever thereafter be precluded from obtaining another license for the same business.

SEC. 5. No person shall sell or attempt to sell or offer for sale any ticket or tickets for any theatre, concert, opera, show, or other place of public amusement or entertainment, without having first obtained a license therefor, as herein provided, under a penalty of $250 for each offense.

The Greene-Street Tragedy—Post-Mortem Examination.

In the case of MINNIE HOUSTEDT, who was shot on Friday, a week ago, by WM. MARSH, of the United States Engineer Corps, because she refused to marry him, Coroner KEENAN impaneled a jury at No. 161 Greene-street yesterday, and with Drs. WOOSTER BEACH, MORTON and CUSHMAN, made a post-mortem examination of the deceased. They found that she had died from internal hemorrhage, caused by the bullet which passed through the liver, and lodged under the skin at the back. Further inquiry was then adjourned until Sunday next at 11 A. M., when Capt. MCDERMOTT, of the Eighth Precinct, will have all the important witnesses present. WM. MARSH is in a very critical condition in the Penitentiary Hospital. The inquest will take place at the City Hall.

A Son's Ingratitude and a Father's Weakness—Suicide in Thompson-Street.

Yesterday morning the Coroner received notice that CHARLES LINDERMAN, a German shoe-maker, residing at No. 44 Thompson-street, committed suicide in his room by hanging himself with a piece of clothes-line that morning. When found by his wife he was quite dead. The deceased, it is said, had been laying by money for his son CHARLES, a lad fifteen years old, and deposited it in the savings bank in the boy's name, who, two weeks ago, got possession of the bank-book and drew $70, with which he cleared out and has not since been seen. The boy's ingratitude so affected the father that he resolved to commit suicide. Coroner KEENAN held an inquest on the body yesterday.

FRIDAY, Sept. 16—P. M.

The Foreign news today was not of a decided character. The demand for Money improved on the revival of speculation on the Stock Exchange noticed yesterday. The Brokers, as a rule, are paying 6 ₱ cent. on demand loan, and 7 ₱ cent. on all time negotiations, with a commission added where Money is borrowed outside of Bank on Stock collateral. Exchange on London continues in free supply from the Canada Bank Agents, and other good drawers, at 109⅛@109¼ ₱ cent. Some few of the leading Bankers ask 109⅜@109½ ₱ cent., and get these rates where particular London credits are preferred. There is no export demand for American Gold Coin, and the considerable shipments of the season appear to be over, notwithstanding which the trade in Foreign Merchandise continues very large for September, and the balances would seem to be running pretty strongly against this side. This consideration is no doubt qualified, to some extent, by the cheapness of Money in London, and the consequent inclination to employ Money belonging abroad in New-York at higher rates of interest.

The Stock Exchange was decidedly animated through the forenoon, and prices strong, as well for the Public Funds as the Railway Stocks. In the latter the September movement now promises a much more active market than seemed to be in prospect through the extreme dullness of last week and the early part of the present week. Nearly all the leading operators are now at home, and most of them feel greatly encouraged by the traffic on the New-York Central and Western Roads. They have already taken hold of Rock Island and the North-west Stocks, and also of New-York Central, Lake Shore and the St. Paul Stocks. The speculation noticed yesterday in Pacific Mail Shares goes forward with some vigor, and the high respectability of the leading buyers has induced the belief that the movement means a substantial appreciation of the Stock. In the Public Funds the quotations are ⅛ ₱ cent. higher than yesterday, and the demand fair for all the 5-20s and 10-40s.

After the late Board the following quotations were made as compared with Thursday night. The sales of Gold through the day varied but slightly from 114 ₱ cent.:

MESSAGES FROM THE MAYOR.

The President laid before the Board a message from the Mayor, relative to the obsequies of the late Admiral Farragut, as follows:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW-YORK, Sept. 15, 1870.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

GENTLEMEN: The widow and surviving relatives of the late Admiral Farragut have decided that his remains are to be brought to this City for final interment.

The Admiral was, at the time of his death, a resident and householder of this City, and it is therefore befitting that our Metropolis should render proper tribute of respect to the honored remains of our country's great hero, who was not only pre-eminent in the galaxy of illustrious names that have ever shed renown on the American Navy, but who, in the reception tendered to him among the various nations and courts of Europe, was distinguished and acknowledged as one of the renowned Admirals of the world. To his eminent abilities and great deeds it is especially gratifying to add that he was, as an individual, endeared to all who were brought within the circle of his influence, by kindness of heart, noble, generous and unselfish nature, and the modesty with which he ever bore high station and received increasing honors.

I suggest, in behalf of the Commonalty, that the United States Government be requested to detail a vessel of war to bring his remains to this City; and that in the event of its omission or inability to do so, that a steamer be dispatched, under civic expense, to Portsmouth, and in charge of a guard of honor; that upon the arrival here of the illustrious remains, they be honored by a public funeral, with suitable pageantry and ceremony. That all associations, naval, military, civic, or otherwise, who are desirous of co-operating in this last tribute of respect, be invited to equally share therein with the City authorities; that, if agreeable to the wishes of his widow and surviving relatives, his remains be conveyed to West Point for interment, beside Gen. SCOTT's, should such arrangements be authorized by the Federal Government, or interred in this City, as, for instance, in St. Paul's Churchyard, upon Broadway, the Rector, Wardens, and Vestry of Trinity Parish having informally acceded to such a suggestion, or in one of the surburban public cemeteries contiguous to the Metropolis; and that a monument to designate his final resting-place be hereafter erected at the expense of the City.

It is proper that I should add that this communication receives the assent of Mrs. Farragut, from whose letter, addressed to the Mayor, dated this morning, I extract the following:

"I can but acquiesce in the wishes so warmly expressed in your communication of this morning, most courteously placed in my hands by Judge Daly, and I shall, with great confidence, intrust to your care the beloved and honored remains of my husband, to be conveyed to their last resting-place."

A. OAKEY HALL, Mayor.

In connection therewith, Alderman Jerome moved that a Committee of five from each Board be appointed to act in the subject matter contained in said message.

Carried—and the President appointed as such Committee on the part of the Board of Aldermen—

Aldermen Jerome, Hart, Cuddy, Welch, Irving.

The President laid before the Board a message from the Mayor, transmitting a certified copy of a proclamation made and issued by him on the tenth instant, fixing and defining the election district divisions and boundaries.

Received and ordered to be printed in document form.

COMMUNICATION.

The President laid before the Board a communication from the Commissioner of Public Works, in reference to a resolution directing him to attach to each of the public lamps Cremin's gas-burner and reflectors.

In connection therewith, presented a resolution, requesting the Board of Assistant Aldermen to return to this Board the message of the Mayor and accompanying papers, being a veto of the resolution authorizing the purchase and use of Cremin's gas-burners, &c., passed by this Board, notwithstanding the objections of the Mayor, August twenty-five, one thousand eight hundred and seventy.

Which was adopted.

Alderman Hart was here called to the chair.

The President pro tem. laid before the Board a communication from the Commissioner of Public Works, transmitting apportionment of assessment in the matter of Lexington-avenue opening; Laurens-street opening; Ninety-third-street opening; Ninetieth-street filling in lots; One Hundred and Twelfth-street opening; St. Nicholas-avenue opening; Alley in Common, and One Hundred and Eleventh-street opening.

Received and ordered to be placed on file.

INVITATIONS.

The President pro tem. laid before the Board invitations from the Empire City Rowing Regatta Club to attend their ninth annual regatta, and from the Charles G. Cornell Association, to attend their annual excursion.

Which were accepted.

PAPERS FROM THE BOARD OF ASSISTANT ALDERMEN.

Resolutions, To permit James E. Ray to place watering trough on north-east corner of Third-avenue and One Hundred and Fifteenth-street; to appoint H. E. Lynch a Commissioner of Deeds, vice J. Seebacher, resigned.

Which were adopted.

Resolutions, To pave with Belgian pavement Vesey-street, from Broadway to West-street, and Clark-street, from Broome to Spring-street; to lay gas-mains, &c., in One Hundred and Thirtieth-street, Tenth-avenue, easterly one hundred feet; to permit Frank Leon to erect four lamp-posts in front of numbers eight hundred and six and eight hundred and eight Broadway; to pay the widow of Henry Rogers, late Assistant Alderman, Ninth District, the salary of said office, due deceased at the time of his death; to place and light street lamps in front of Grammar school number ninety-four, front of number one hundred and four East Thirteenth-street, and number three hundred and fifty-eight East Nineteenth-street, and in front of number one hundred and thirty-two West Thirty-first-street; to place free drinking-hydrants in front of number three hundred and fifty-one Stanton-street; to permit Mr. A. NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE WAR.

The gates of Paris have been closed, and the city declared in a state of siege. Our special correspondent at London telegraphs that the Prussians are closing in on the city in a way that indicates an attack on the southern and south-eastern sides; by this means they can secure their supplies, and prevent, at the same time, reinforcements to the besieged from the south and west. The power of the city to resist, it is asserted by military men of experience, is only limited by the supply of food—and this is ample. Gen. TROCHU has 410,000 men under arms, and has made most complete preparations for defense. If the enemy should batter down the walls or get within the city by surprise, they will have to make their way over formidable barricades. There is an immense supply of powder within the city, and plenty of arms. The people are reported as calm but resolute, and determined to emulate Strasbourg.

Other dispatches state that the first attack will be directed against Vincennes, and that there a large body of Parisian troops are in waiting for the commencement of hostilities. German troops are slowly concentrating near that point. The advance of the grand army was, yesterday afternoon, said to be within seven miles of the city and scouting parties in possession of Corbeil, eighteen miles south-south-east, and Clamart, five miles south-west of Paris. Five thousand troops of the Grand Duchy of Baden occupied Colmar on Thursday. They first had a skirmish with the French riflemen.

One Paris correspondent telegraphs that balloons are to be employed, and photographic bird's-eye views will be continually taken of the enemy's advance, and instantly sent to Gen. TROCHU. He also telegraphs the substance of a letter just published by Père HYACINTHE, expressing the warmest gratitude to the United States for its prompt recognition of the Republic. He says that the letter addressed by Mr. WASHBURNE to the Minister of Foreign Affairs is "a page in the history of liberty in both worlds. It revives the memory of WASHINGTON and LAFAYETTE, and proves that, if despotism has succeeded in dividing the two Governments, liberty has not for one moment ceased to unite the two nations. Europe, on whose soil the blood of our heroic defeats has been shed, still keeps silence; while America, notwithstanding that the ocean separates us, makes her voice heard."

There is still a belief that mediation is possible. Some think that the fact that the measures of defense at Paris are formidable will act strongly in favor of peace. It is reported in London that BISMARCK, in reply to JULES FAVRE's demand for an armistice, has said there are questions yet to be settled with France before the suspension of hostilities is possible. From Berlin it is announced that Russia declines all further effort for mediation. Mr. BANCROFT denies having invoked American intervention.

It is generally reported in London that the real crown diamonds were long ago sold through the American Dr. EVANS for the benefit of the Imperial family, and that the Empress lodged in the bank of France paste imitations of them. EUGENIE, it is said, is just now sadly tried by an army of curious sight-seers, who follow her about and stare at her whenever she appears in public. NAPOLEON is not so troubled. He is visited by few—and the majority of his visitors are Americans.

Marshal MCMAHON, accompanied by a General of the Belgian Army, arrived in Bouillon, Belgium, yesterday.

The Prussian head-quarters have been established within twenty-five miles of Paris, and the Uhlans have already swept round the suburbs, and passed almost within range of the guns of Vincennes and Chararenton. If reports speak truly the south and east have been selected as the points of attack. Strangely enough these are precisely the sides on which military critics have pronounced Paris to be most invulnerable. The eastern forts are advantageously placed on the summit of a plateau partially covered by the Marne, and any siege works directed against the southern forts must be executed under the fire of those immediately contiguous. Should this plan of attack be anything more than a feint to divert attention from the more probable point of assault on the north and north-east, it will prove either that the Prussians are strongly persuaded of the value of the Napoleonic maxim of knowing no impossible, or that they have calculated upon what is apparently the strongest point of Paris, having, on that account, received less attention than other portions of the works. We have as yet no reliable news as to the advance of the Prussian siege guns. The delay, already reported, of a portion of them cannot very perceptibly retard the general prosecution of the plan of attack, which there is every reason of military policy to push forward with all dispatch, just as there is no possible justification either in political necessity or common humanity for its going on at all.

Moral Weakness of Prussia's Position.

The marvelous series of victories which have enabled hostile armies to traverse French soil from the Rhine to the gates of Paris, were the work of united Germany. Prussia, unaided, would probably have found a match in France. The hearty co-operation, the ready sacrifices, the gallant services of the lesser Germanic States, have greatly facilitated, if they have not made possible, her triumph. It was the grand idea of a united Germany which kindled the ardor, and added the strength of patriotism to the arms, whose achievements are literally without a parallel. Dissensions and lukewarmness in Germany would have impaired the available might of Prussia to an extent that might have changed the entire character of the campaign.

When the terms of peace are mentioned, however, it is the King of Prussia alone who speaks. He it is to whom diplomatists address proposals for mediation, and his answer is accepted as though it were the decision of all Germany. By virtue of a military authority, as head of the armies of invasion, he assumes to interpret the will of the southern Germanic States—the essential nature of whose services in the field even BISMARCK is constrained to recognize as in the future a restraining consideration—as well as of the North German Confederation. Thus King WILLIAM, impelled by dynastic instincts and ambition, commits Germany to a policy which really reflects only the purposes of the reigning family of Prussia. Germany undertook the war to crush NAPOLEON, who menaced it perpetually, and to impose a check upon France as an aggressive Power. The Prussian King now carries on the war to crush a republic, whose existence is evidence of NAPOLEON's overthrow, and to restore the very dynastic influences which the war was originally waged to destroy. The King's position is therefore worse than illogical—it is politically odious, and morally indefensible.

Of course, Germany as the victor is entitled to impose conditions of peace, and one of these conditions may be the acquisition of French territory. Public meetings at Berlin and elsewhere have indicated the readjustment of the Rhine boundary as a guarantee to be exacted; and there would be nothing very outrageous in the transfer back to Germany of a district which naturally belonged to it. The expediency of the thing is the debatable point, and it is for Germany to consider that. The payment of the pecuniary cost of the war, or of a sum in consideration thereof, is the second point which Germany seems to urge, and which may be urged without provoking reasonable complaints of extravagance. Neither of these demands implies any interference with the internal economy of France. The form and personnel of its Government are matters which the people of united Germany would be willing to leave to the French people.

The King of Prussia, however, is not content to press these demands as in the interest of the Germany which has made him what he is. He sets up a pretension which the German people have never sanctioned, and which a very large proportion of them, at any other time, would have angrily repudiated. He refuses to discuss the question of terms with the present Government of France. His abhorrence of republicanism leads him to withhold recognition from the Executive of the Republic. He asserts a right to say what is and what is not the legitimate governing authority of the nation which, for the moment, is at the mercy of his armies. And he declares that the Government which acts for, and in the name of the French people, is not a Government to be acknowledged, even as an enemy. Nothing less will satisfy him than the reinstallation of the Napoleonic regency, which collapsed like a bubble before the first breath of popular anger, and the officials who fled as for their lives to escape the vengeance of the people they had outraged and betrayed. This is the attitude of the Prussian King, and it is infamous.

There may be technical diplomatic difficulties arising from the absence of formal recognition on the part of other monarchies. But these difficulties are not really formidable. It is quite evident from the advices from St. Petersburg that no plea of this sort hinders the Czar from so far acting for France as to interpose an offer of mediation. Even the action of England, base and cowardly as it is, proves the same thing. If King WILLIAM is prepared to treat with the regency created by NAPOLEON, which could not now exist an instant in Paris without the support of Prussian bayonets, he might with much better grace enter into negotiations with the Provisional Government, whose origin, whatever its legal defects, is directly traceable to the popular will. The probable ability to carry out any covenants that might be entered into is much greater in the latter than in the former case. EUGENIE and her Ministers would be as powerless in France as the royal lady who seeks repose at Balmoral.

It is possible that, after all, the terms insisted upon by Germany might be rejected by the Provisional Government. When events reach that stage, the wisdom of the course pursued by France will be a fair topic of discussion. In the meantime, the King of Prussia puts himself and his cause wholly in the wrong by fastening upon the conflict an issue with which the conquering armies have no proper concern.

Funding the Canal Debt.

We understand that the Democratic managers, with more cunning than fairness, are seeking to make a point against the Republican ticket, by interpreting the platform adopted at Saratoga as if hostile to the policy of funding the canal debt. It will be remembered that a very general and forcible expression of opinion was had last Winter upon that subject, in the course of which little regard was paid to party lines. Both Republicans and Democrats favored the plan which was finally adopted by the Legislature, and which is to be submitted to the people for their ratification at the election in November. So far, therefore, as the funding scheme now pending is concerned, neither party is identified with or against it, and it cannot properly be made an issue in the present canvass.

The resolutions adopted at Saratoga do not allude to the subject. They simply denounce the adjustment of the toll-sheet by the Canal Board last Spring as being unwise, and as having operated adversely to the interests of the State and the people of New York. There is little question but that the charge is a true one. The diversion of trade which was complained of, and which was sought to be prevented by the new toll-sheet, has increased during the present season, and it is demonstrable that the result may be attributed almost entirely to the new arrangement which was made by the Democratic Canal Board. The Republican platform goes further, and denounces the management of the canals during the past year, but it is careful to make no allusion to the funding scheme.

We can readily understand the motive which prompts Democratic managers to assert, as they do, that the Republican Party in the State is opposed to the proposition to fund the canal debt. There is a large and powerful organization in this State, known as the "Commercial Union," composed of men who are directly interested in the business and prosperity of our canals, and who are governed in their political action solely by that consideration. They are reported to control from twenty to thirty thousand votes, and it is to influence them that the Democratic managers are so eagerly striving to misrepresent the Republicans. The fact is, that the statistics of the past three years have been gradually showing that a radical change in our canal policy is necessary, and there is no room for a party issue on the subject. We must either reduce the tolls to the lowest practicable rate, or the canals will lose their business. The funding scheme now pending is the first step in the right direction, simply because it removes the constitutional inhibitions which have so long stood in the way of low tolls.

A movement is now being perfected in this City to insure the ratification of the funding scheme by the people at the approaching election, and it is not in the interest of either political party. The New-York Produce Exchange will take the initiative some time during the present month, and Hon. WILLIAM M. EVARTS will address them in favor of the plan adopted by the Legislature last Winter. Meetings will probably be held at other prominent points in the State. The organization embraces large numbers—probably a majority—of earnest and intelligent Republicans, whom it will be difficult for the Democratic leaders to deceive into a belief that any essential canal issue is involved in the canvass.

The Growth of New-York.

The loud moanings and groanings which are coming up from nearly all the great cities, over the census returns of their population, will, it is to be hoped, as soon as politicians have done fighting over the matter, give place to some sober reflection over the causes of this failure to increase in the anticipated ratio. It is to be observed that, in the first place, the returns do not seem to justify the prevalent opinion as to the crowding of people from the country into the cities, under the influence of the speculative mania bred by the war. But, then, it has to be taken into account that, side by side with the tendency to go to the cities to engage in business, there is a tendency almost equally strong to live in the country while doing the business. All cities suffer from this latter tendency in greater or less degree—but the very large cities, of course, more than the others. New-York fights against it by keeping up a villainously bad system of communication with the suburbs, but then this is only partially effective, as the communication with the greater portion of the suburbs is by water, and it is almost impossible to make steam-boats so slow and uncomfortable for short distances as to diminish travel. Moreover, as regards all water communication, except by ferries, competition renders the public tolerably sure of a certain degree of comfort. But so far from mourning over the fact that the population of the great cities is not increasing as fast as we thought it was, we ought to rejoice over it. The crowding together of such large masses of population as are now found in London, Paris and New-York is, under present conditions, a veritable misfortune—an injury to health and morals, and religion and decency. In fact, it may be said that it is, on the whole, the most dangerous and disagreeable phenomenon of modern civilization, and the one which makes the success of democratic government most doubtful. Of course it is easy to produce dozens of similar expressions of alarm about the growth of cities, uttered when London and Paris had only from one to two hundred thousand inhabitants, and which have been shown by the result to be ridiculously unfounded. But then the things which our ancestors feared about large cities are not what we fear. They thought they could not be fed. We know that feeding them would cause no trouble if they were twice as large, but we have standards of living, and of comfort and decency, which they had not, and which we have thus far been unable to reach through popular government, and popular government, it is now certain great cities, like great countries, must have.

There is only one city in the world which comes up even nearly to one's idea of what a great city ought to be, as regards architecture, sewerage, lighting and police—and that, we need hardly say, is Paris. Everybody acknowledges that it is a model in all that relates to material comfort, save, perhaps, the water supply. But then Paris has been made what it is through a government which it is useless to expect that any other city of its size will ever again be subjected to, and the permanency of which is now shown, even in Paris, to be impossible. The recent architectural and all other improvements in it have been effected by depriving the tax-payers of all control over the amount or disposition of the city revenues or Police, or, indeed, over any branch of the City administration, and plunging it in a debt which there is no chance of its being able to pay. The Police arrangements, also, owe whatever excellence they can boast to the fact that they have been so completely controlled by an all-powerful and all-pervading despotism. So that, beautiful a sight as Paris has been, and pleasant as it has been to live in, its history furnishes little or no assistance to New-Yorkers, or Bostonians, or any self-governing people.

The best plan of governing great cities in free countries has still to be struck out, and in the meantime, we are going on trying to manage them with the very machinery devised by our ancestors for the management of small walled burghs of ten or twenty thousand inhabitants. Now that the motive power is supplied by universal suffrage, and it has to deal with masses of population from one to two millions strong, it is making rather sorry work of it, and if these masses are not increasing as fast as we thought they were, we ought to be thankful for the respite.

Mr. F. L. OLMSTED has recently touched in a lecture on one of the worst of the habits bequeathed us by the Middle Ages, and that is the habit of living in cities close to our business, and arranging the city as if this was a necessity. In the Middle Ages it was a necessity for military reasons, but cities are no longer strongholds, and, if they could all be planned over again, there is no good reason why one portion should not be arranged simply for business purposes, and another for dwelling purposes. The rich have of late years practically acted on this theory, as regards the choice of their own dwellings, but the defectiveness of all municipal government, and, what is perhaps the greatest of all the causes of the inconveniences of city life, the slow progress of improvement in the means of intramural locomotion, have left the bulk of the population of every city to burrow where they can. They are forced to put up with the minimum of light and air, and be ravaged, even in the healthiest times and places, by contagious diseases, and to stick as close to their business as possible. When one considers that, barring the introduction of the rail into street traffic, we are dependent for our means of getting about in all the great centres of population on one of the earliest and rudest and least efficient modes of conveyance, a heavy carriage drawn by horses, it will be seen how little any city has yet done or can do with this in existence for the accommodation of a large population, or for the health of its workers, or for the beautifying or aeration of its streets or buildings. Space is essential both for health and decoration, and space people won't submit to, unless they can get over it readily. Until, therefore, we have steam in or under the streets, it behooves us not to wish for more inhabitants, and as long as we have to crowd inhabitants together as we have now, it is almost useless to look for very considerable diminution in the amount of crime.

The Tien-Tsin Massacre.

Now that we have full details of the tragedy which has so rudely disturbed western notions of Chinese "progress," the public are able to judge with comparative accuracy of the exact amount of culpability attaching to its actors and abettors. A correspondent of the London and China Telegraph, writing from Tien-tsin four days after the massacre, gives a graphic and ghastly account of the occurrence, and his communication is characterized by so temperate a tone that it predisposes us to a belief in its accuracy. The chief particulars which throw additional light upon this lamentable occurrence are those proving that the massacre resulted from no mere ebullition of popular fury, temporarily roused to the pitch of tiger-like ferocity, but was the crowning act of a deep-laid and carefully-prepared conspiracy, incited, if not absolutely projected, by the Mandarins. A proclamation had been issued by the District Magistrate a week or two previously, in which he alluded to kidnapping in terms which left it to be inferred that he believed the kidnappers to be working for foreigners. CHUNG-HOW, the District Superintendent, declined to issue a notification correcting this impression on the minds of the people. The couriers conveying intelligence of the massacre to the foreign Legations were seized, and one of them was taken to the Magistrate's yamun and flogged with the bamboo. After the outbreak, the accounts given by CHUNG-HOW, and by other Mandarians slightly inferior in rank, of the death of the French Consul, differed to an extent which justifies a charge of deliberate falsehood against the former. As regards the widespread nature of the conspiracy, evidence abounds on all hands. A native Protestant missionary was told of the intended massacre while away in the country at a distance of fifty miles. For several days previously, no workmen could be got by the foreign missionaries, and foreigners of all nationalities were hooted in the streets, and told that within a few days they would all be killed. Two hundred and fifty children were withdrawn from the schools of the Sisters of Charity ten days before the noble women who maintained them suffered their fearful and shocking deaths. All these indications of coming danger were represented to the Chinese Superintendent, but no notice was taken of the appeal. The whole affair places the conduct of the native authorities in the worst light, and it cannot be wondered at that the foreign communities are wrought up to a pitch of exasperation which may entail even more serious consequences than any yet recorded.

It is satisfactory that the proofs of premeditation are so overwhelming, as charges which can never be disproved have been freely made against the French Consul and his Chancellor, to the effect that their own injudicious conduct led to the massacre of themselves and their fellow-countrymen. If, as in this case, five or six witnesses of perfect credibility, being at the time many miles apart, come forward and depose that they were informed that on a given day every French man and woman at Tien-tsin was to be massacred, it matters little whether the Consul did or did not exhibit the want of tact attributed to him. From the fact that the statements of CHUNG-HOW and other officials regarding other matters are demonstrably false, it is more than probable that the account they give of M. FONTANIER's behavior is either totally or partially untrue. Our English contemporaries appear to have fallen into the error of assuming that the massacre was a consequence of his alleged imprudence after the mob had commenced their acts of violence. Yet this imprudence, if committed, was exhibited within the yamun of the Superintendent, who even then professed to have already lost all control over the people, and both the Consul and Chancellor were murdered before they reached the scene of the butchery.

Some weight has been attached to the scandalous treatment of Chinese by Californian mobs as a cause of the massacre at Tien-tsin. Writers who treat of China as a homogeneous empire are, however, laboring under a curious mistake. Cantonese and Pekinese are practically as remote from each other as Norwegians from Italians, or, to use a better illustration, as Siberian Tartars from the inhabitants of St. Petersburg. The men who stoned a passing group of nomads in the streets of Kiachta would scarcely dread reprisals from the shop-keepers or vagabonds of the "Nevskoi Prospekt." In customs, and especially in language, the two peoples of north and south China are totally distinct, and a clan hatred moreover subsists between them, which was strikingly exemplified in the war of 1860, when large bodies of Canton coolies were actually enlisted to assist in the operations against the capital. If every coolie visiting our shores were incontinently hanged, their execution would be viewed with sublime indifference by the "Son of Heaven." No excuse can, therefore, be found in any acts committed by us for the doings at Tien-tsin, where the Cantoners and Southerners are regarded as a separate and antagonistic people.

Organizing the Campaign.

The Republican State Central Committee met for the first time yesterday, and entered upon the work of organizing the campaign. The Committee is composed of one member from each Congressional District, selected by the delegates to the State Convention from that district. The gathering of such a body of men affords a valuable opportunity for consultation, and devising methods of legitimate action, both offensive and defensive, which must largely affect the canvass. The list embraces the names of many of the shrewdest and most effective Republican workers in the State.

Of course, it is impossible as yet to arrive at any definite or trustworthy conclusions as to the canvass, but the general expression of the members of the Committee is favorable. We are assured that, with proper management, the present apathy in the rural districts can be broken, and an enthusiastic campaign organized. It is of the greatest importance that the canvass in this City should be vigorously attended to, and that the Republicans in the outside districts should have assurances to that effect, upon which they can predicate their action. We shall virtually gain thousands of votes in the State, if our Republican brethren in the interior can be made to feel that a fair poll will be had here, and that their efforts will not be paralyzed, as they have been, by the grossest frauds.

The task of organizing the Republicans of the Metropolis, so as to insure an honest election, is herculean, but it is one which can be accomplished. The law is plain and sufficient. All that is necessary is to put it in force. To that end a vast amount of preliminary work is necessary—more than can properly be attended to by the State Central Committee. That work should be delegated to a competent City Committee, to be appointed and supervised by the State Central Committee. Only in that way can the local discords and jealousies of our City Republicans be avoided, and effective work insured. We trust that the Central Committee will not adjourn till this be done, and the general plan of the campaign here be finished.

The German Democratic General Committee—an organization which Tammany kindly permits to maintain a separate existence so long as it blindly follows the lead of the Ring,—met last evening and went through the form of "recommending" Tammany to do what it long ago decided to do, viz.: nominate JNO. T. HOFFMAN for Governor, A. OAKEY HALL for Mayor, MATTHEW T. BRENNAN for Sheriff, and so on for the balance of the ticket. It also passed a resolution recommending that the State Convention say nothing about the war question, but maintain a strict neutrality. The Democracy will doubtless be only too glad to follow this advice. Indeed, under the peculiar circumstances of the case, the less said on the war question the better. Whether the mass of German voters will maintain a like silence on election day is another question.

A municipal ordinance regulating the sale of theatre tickets, and the tickets of other places of amusement, outside of the regular offices, is a more sensible proceeding than the recent attempt to extinguish the speculators by arbitrary measures. The speculators, so called, were not an unmitigated nuisance,—they were often a source of much convenience, and sometimes of real benefit to strangers. As a rule, the bonus they charged was not in excess of the value of the accommodation afforded. The ordinance will be useful, however, if it enable the Mayor to weed out of the business the scamps who have disgraced it. We fear it is not in his power, even with the help of the Common Council, to correct a common and more provoking abuse—unfairness in some of the regular ticket-offices, in the disposal of seats for special occasions.

The suspension by the British Government of all its contracts for building turret-ships is a natural consequence of the foundering of the Captain. We have known for some time that, as regards the weight of its plating, the English iron-clad fleet surpassed any other ships that keep the sea. We now know at what cost this superiority has been purchased. A limit is evidently set to the invulnerability of vessels by the inflexible laws of gravity, and the unchanging power of the ocean. It was a terrible dispensation that Capt. COLES, the inventor of the British turret system, should have gone down with the Captain. He warranted the safety as well as effectiveness of the ship to his Government, and has paid the sad forfeit with his life.

The protracted drouth is almost as remarkable as the heat that preceded it. In Richmond, Va., no rain has fallen for seventy-two days—a space rarely equaled in the records of meteorology. Other parts of the country have experienced a like deprivation. Some streams have ceased to run, and the usual supplies of wells and springs in many rural districts have failed altogether. We hear of at least one canal that is almost dried up. By the natural and usual system of compensation, great heat, robbing the earth of its moisture in favor of the atmosphere, should be followed by copious rains. That such has so far not been the case is a fresh peculiarity to be added to the chronicle of a season the weather of which has been nothing less than phenomenal.

The continued advance of the Italian troops into the Papal States forcibly recalls the march of the Allies in 1859 into Lombardy. The sneer of Prince METTERNICH, that Italy was but a geographical expression, has been completely falsified by the history of the past few years. It now appears that the national sentiment is as strong in the States of the Church as it is in Piedmont. The temporal subjects of the Pope welcome the soldiers of the Kingdom of Italy, as if they had come to deliver them from a foreign yoke, and the most convincing proof of the ripeness of the populace for union to Italy is to be found in the readiness of the very employes of the Roman Government to fraternize with the invader. It is true that these worthies may be guided by the principle of making friends of the unrighteous Mammon, but in any case their adhesion shows that no difficulty will be placed in the way of annexation.

It seems as if our Republican friends in the interior of the State were alive to the importance of putting unexceptionable men in nomination for Congress. Local canvasses thus organized are sure to strengthen the State ticket, instead of being a source of weakness. Of such a character is the nomination of ELLIS H. ROBERTS, of Oneida. He has for years presided over the destinies of that able Republican organ, the Utica Herald, and is one of the most influential and popular Republicans in the district. He was nominated by acclamation, and announced his purpose to stump the county. We shall hear a good account from Oneida in November.

We have the old story from Fall River. The mill operatives, who "struck" two months ago, have succumbed to the superior power of capital, and are eagerly seeking work subject to a condition which implies more than ordinary defeat. It is possible that the rumored intention of the mill-owners to employ Chinese labor in some degree hastened the result, which, however, was otherwise inevitable. The strikers, it is said, have lost half a million in wages. Its actual cost cannot be estimated so precisely, but it must have been very large. Had the amount been expended in organizing co-operative industry, or in facilitating migration to Minnesota or Kansas, the working people of Fall River would have had a different tale to tell.

The 17th of September, the anniversary of the opening of the National Convention, and also, by the way, that of the battle of Antietam, will probably be celebrated hereafter as beginning the formal siege of Paris. When Queen VICTORIA and Prince ALBERT visited the imperial city at the opening of the Great Exhibition—the first visit to Paris of an English Sovereign since 1422—it was as little thought that all the splendid improvements by which NAPOLEON III. propitiated and employed his people would so soon be threatened by a conqueror, as that England would stand coldly by and seem to wish rather than to deprecate destruction. The friendships of Princes are truly as fickle as the Parisian populace itself, and as little to be trusted. That the French people after having, as he says, driven him into war, and the English Court after so many years of cordial amity should turn their backs upon him now, may well excuse that contempt for mankind which the fallen Emperor is said to share with his famous uncle. Paris, at least, beautiful Paris, which NAPOLEON has done so much to make the envy and admiration of the world, he might have hoped would be faithful; yet Paris was first to strike him from behind. Surely this is enough to make his cup bitter indeed. The enforced retirement of Wilhelmshohe, or even of St. Helena itself, however galling, might well be preferable to the repetition of such an experience.

What is the reason that a confidence operator can take an unsuspecting stranger into what the Police reports call "a questionable sort of exchange office," and rob him of his money? The exchange dealers are held for examination, it is true, but who ever heard of justice being administered to the full extent in such cases? Of course the Police cannot take care of every verdant countryman who comes here with money in his pocket, but surely the places where they are defrauded can be suppressed. There are in this City numbers of "offices" and other places, which are maintained solely by downright and unblushing robbery. They are unmolested. And yet, if a man were to keep a cellar-full of gunpowder, or in any similar way endanger persons and property, he would be restrained. Practically the morality of the case applies in both instances.

The abolition of capital punishment has long been a prominent article in the creed of European radicals. Every reader of VICTOR HUGO is familiar with his diatribes against the death penalty; at the last regular session of the German Reichstag the Liberals came very near eliminating the punishment of death from the new criminal code; a similar sentiment prevails among the Republicans of Spain, the Radical Party in Belgium, and the Revolutionists of Italy. It is somewhat of a surprise, however, to find cautious and Calvinistic Holland on the point of agreeing to so sweeping a change in criminal jurisprudence. Unless the cable dispatch errs in stating that the first Chamber or Senate has passed the law, the measure now only awaits the assent of the Sovereign. It is quite probable, however, that the bill may actually not have passed beyond what is properly called the second Chamber, or Lower House of Representatives.

While the employment of Chinese as domestic servants may be in many respects desirable, it is as well to avoid undue enthusiasm upon the subject. A Boston agent for securing the services of these has many applications for them, but he is obliged to cease advertising the business for an unforeseen reason. Chinamen are very clannish, and object to being separated from their countrymen, preferring to engage themselves in companies. There are said, also, to be some disagreeable experiences at times, on the part of family employers, in another way. They find that Chinese servants are very peculiar as to temper,—quick to take offense at slight and, to the white man, unintelligible causes. And when they do get into a passion, resort to weapons of some sort may not unfrequently be looked for. At all events this is what some people say who profess to know them well. That Chinamen can be ferocious, the Tien-tsin massacre shows clearly enough. Without, therefore, discouraging the new movement in regard to domestic service, it may not be amiss to suggest seeking fuller information upon the subject than we now have.

The Nilsson Concerts.

The sale of tickets for single concerts of the Nilsson series will be commenced at Steinway Hall this morning. The first concert will positively occur Monday evening, and Mlle. NILSSON will sing "Angels ever bright and fair," by HANDEL; the mad scene from "Hamlet," by THOMAS; and "Ah! Sors'é lui," from "La Traviata." The "Martha" quartette is also to be given with her co-operation.

A New Reciter.

Mr. OLLIVER GOLDSMITH, of this City, has a son only six years old, whose wonderful memory has attracted the attention of many prominent gentlemen. Although the little fellow is unable to read a line, he will recite page after page of SHAKESPEARE, with all the feeling and expression of a veteran actor. And not only does he remember the text of what has been read to him once or twice, but he appears to thoroughly understand its meaning. It is with pleasure we hear that this little "wonder" will soon appear before the public, by whom his peculiar talents will doubtless be properly appreciated.

POLITICAL.

GENERAL NOTES.

Charles Ready is the candidate of the Democracy for Congress in the Fourth Tennessee District.

Gen. Paine, the Republican representative in Congress from the First Wisconsin District, declines a renomination.

W. E. Lansing is the Republican candidate for Congress in the Twenty-second New-York District.

Hon. E. H. Prindle is urged for the Republican nomination in the Nineteenth Congressional District of this State.

The Free Traders of the Fifth Iowa Congressional District have nominated B. F. Montgomery.

Six towns of Vermont seem to be without a Democrat. At the recent election there was not a Democratic vote cast.

Judge Nathan R. Black is the Republican candidate for Congress in the First Kentucky District.

Two of three Aldermen at Galveston, Texas, displaced by Gov. Davis, have filed a protest, and a law-suit is likely to be the consequence.

The Governor of South Carolina, it is understood, has given assurances that no commissioner of election shall be a candidate for office.

Michael Ryan has been nominated for Congress by the Democrats in the Third Louisiana District. No other nominations are to be made this month.

In the Ninth Congressional District of Missouri the Brown Republicans have nominated D. P. Dyer. The McClurg men have nominated E. Draper.

Hon. Seth Wakeman's nomination for Congress in the Twenty-ninth District of this State is still urged as a right by the Republicans of Genesee County.

Richard J. Haldeman, the present incumbent, has been agreed upon as the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Fifteenth District of Pennsylvania.

Hon. Ellis Roberts, the Republican candidate for Congress in the Oneida (N. Y.) District, was a member of the Legislature in 1867, and has considerable experience.

The Boston Post claims that many Republicans have acquiesced in the preference of the Democrats of the Third District of Massachusetts for Hon. Wm. Gaston as candidate for Congress.

James T. Price, of Saline County, Mo., announces himself a candidate for Congress in the Sixth District of that State, on the Brown platform. He is opposed by R. T. Van Horn, a McClurg man.

"The nomination of 'Overcoat' Murphy, for the Assembly," says the Albany Journal, "imposes upon our friends in that district the duty of making a special and earnest fight to save it from a repetition of the disgrace of last Winter. It is a Republican district, and a proper canvass will insure the defeat of Mr. Murphy. Nor, if he is fairly beaten at the ballot-box, can he again hope to secure his admission by any fraud. The next Assembly will be Republican, and will tolerate no such outrage as that by which Mr. Murphy obtained his seat last Winter."

The St. Louis, Mo., Republican says: "Mr. Edwin Draper, a prominent Radical of Louisiana, has written a letter denouncing the Brown movement as 'the result of a deliberate contract between the Brown men of St. Louis and the Democratic leaders, long before the Convention assembled, the terms of which were, the Brown ticket to be nominated with or without a bolt, but to be nominated at all hazards; the Democrats to have no ticket in the field; but after pretense of fighting shy a short time to go the whole ticket, giving the Brown Radicals the State ticket, the Democrats to have the Legislature and Senator, (John B. Henderson, most likely,) and all the county offices that could be grabbed; and, after that, to be one party.' It is not improbable that Mr. Draper will be brought out by the regular wing of his party in the Ninth District as a candidate for Congress."

At a political gathering in Ohio, recently, Gen. Garfield said: "The Democratic Party, by Vallandigham, asks to bury the past. There is some truth and some error in this. The question this Fall is, 'Which of these parties will you trust?' In the past, note, first, that every proposition the Republicans have made in the last ten years has been approved and carried out, and the propositions by the Democratic Party, for the same period, have been repudiated by the American people. The Administration is charged with wastefulness. Compare it with that of Buchanan or Johnson. Buchanan found the Government owing twenty million dollars, and he left it owing seventy million dollars. It took $1,000,000 to keep one of his regiments a year. It takes only seven hundred thousand dollars to keep one now the same time. The Democratic Party complain of debt. Who made it? It lies at their door. No Republican ever seceded. The hope of division in the North was the chief cause of extending the war. Johnson, in the last year and a half of his Administration, increased the debt $1,000,000. Grant, in the same time, reduced it $100,000,000."

Philip Rafferty, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Fifth New-Jersey District, receives the following notice from the Newark Advertiser: "The nomination of Mr. Rafferty for Congress has been expected for some time, but it was by a much closer vote (58 for Rafferty on the final ballot, to 54 for Major Budd) than he and his friends claimed on Monday last. Many supposed that he could not overcome the earnest opposition of the intelligent and moral portion of his party, and of nearly all its leaders in every county but Passaic; even in Passaic few of the leaders were active and hearty in his support, and they accepted him, but the influences in his favor were too powerful for the leaders, and for the morality and intelligence of his party, and he has triumphed over all combined. Notoriously he has been nominated by the lavish use of money and rum, aided by appeals to the religious bigotry and clannish feelings of his countrymen. To these causes are wholly due his carrying several townships of Morris against Major Budd, the most popular Democrat in the county, and who was warmly supported by all the leading Democrats of his county, and the carrying of Newton against Abram S. Hewitt, who is deservedly very popular there as the man to whose large sacrifices in its construction that place is indebted for the Sussex Railroad."

MASSACHUSETTS.

The Political Outlook—Congressional Nominations—Wendell Phillips' Plans—John Quincy Adams' Declination.

From the Springfield Republican, Sept. 16.

"Amid the wreck of matter and the crush of candidates for state offices in the coming election, it is a relief to find that our Congressional delegation is to remain about the same. The present members will accept a renomination in every district, we believe, and there is little doubt that they will be renominated. Mr. Washburn, in the Ninth District, finding so general a wish among his constituents that he should continue to be their representative, will not insist on the withdrawal of his name, and, we presume, will receive the nomination with very little opposition. Mr. Brooks, in the Seventh District, whose health at one time led his friends to fear that he would decline a re-election, is no longer an invalid, and will have little difficulty in again defeating Dr. Ayer, who is still ambitious to go to Congress. Mr. Hooper in the Fourth District, Gen. Butler in the Fifth, Gen. Banks in the Sixth, Mr. Hoar in the Eighth and Mr. Dawes in the Tenth, are, of course, secure of a re-election; though the prohibitionists threaten to bring out a candidate against Gen. Banks, and the Democrats talk of defeating Mr. Hooper. The first three districts are somewhat in doubt, as we intimated, last week, and in the divided condition of the Republicans of Mr. Twitchell's district, there is some reason to believe that he will be defeated at the polls, if he is renominated. Mr. Gaston, on whom the opposition have fixed their hopes, is a respectable gentleman, and if the Democrats are to have a member of Congress from Massachusetts, it may as well be Mr. Gaston as anybody. But it is by no means sure that he can be chosen in the Third District, though it is clear enough that Senator Morton cannot. In the First and Second Districts the successful candidate will be a Republican, but whether either or both the present members will be returned is uncertain. If Mr. Ames strongly desires a re-election, we presume he will get it; but although Mr. Buffinton strongly desires it, he seems now to be losing ground rather than gaining. Judge Pitman has been brought out as a candidate, in an irregular way, to be sure, but he is so strong in his own locality, that if he accepts a nomination he will poll a large vote. The New-Bedford Standard pleads hard for Mr. Buffinton, and even speaks of him as too good to be 'thrown overboard after a single term of office,' as if he had never been seen in Washington till his present term. We would not advise his friends to put his claim in that form; but we would hint to Mr. Buffinton himself that he has had his turn in Congress and had much better withdraw his name than involve his constituents in a quarrel. He has had his good things, and has done some good things, without reckoning the increase of ten per cent. in the duty on seal oil. But there is an end to everything in this world, and it is time his Congressional career was ended."

The Boston Post says: "Wendell Phillips is the first man to accept more than one nomination to the same office, while avowing a personal indisposition to be elected. He manages to reconcile that feeling, however, with his duty to accept as many nominations as offered. It is an apostle of many creeds that he takes the lead. His notion is that every point of faith should make the basis of a new party; and in subscribing to each he would catch the suffrages of all."

The same paper is "authorized to state that Col. John Quincy Adams declines another nomination by the Democracy of Massachusetts as their candidate for Governor of the State. His selection as their standard-bearer, three years ago, was made under circumstances of great interest, at a critical time in the history of popular sentiment, and just when the courage, boldness, vigor and youth which were well represented in his character were desirable influences in the spread and strengthening of Democratic principles with the people."

LOCAL POLITICS.

The German Republican Central Committee—Ratification Meeting—Formation of a German Central Campaign Club.

The German Republican Central Committee held a regular monthly meeting at the Steuben House, last evening, Mr. Sigismund Kaufman, the President, in the chair, and Mr. Beyerle acting as Secretary. Mr. Ellinger, of a delegation which attended the Saratoga Convention, being called upon to make a report, briefly reviewed the proceedings of that Convention which resulted in the nomination of Gen. Woodford for Governor, and the President of the German Republican Central Committee of this City for Lieutenant-Governor, as a compliment to the German element, notwithstanding the opposition which originally prevailed against it. The opposition, he stated, emanated from the county delegates, who were pledged for Littlejohn, and were only at liberty to cast their votes for Kaufman, after Littlejohn had been withdrawn. The question of the Excise law had been so modified in the platform that the cities and towns shall have the privilege to regulate this matter for themselves. He had no doubt that this would be satisfactory to every German voter.

Mr. Grasse, in behalf of the Executive Committee, submitted a report recommending that this body resolve itself into a Woodford and Kaufman Campaign Club.

Mr. Richard then introduced the following resolutions, which, after a brief debate, were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we heartily approve the nomination and platform at Saratoga. The name of Stewart L. Woodford, the young and able lawyer, who faithfully served his country during the rebellion, and afterward as Lieutenant-Governor of this State, will arouse thousands of veterans around our standard, irrespective of party proclivities, in supporting him for the office of Governor. The nomination of our esteemed fellow citizen, Sigismund Kaufman, for the office of Lieutenant-Governor, is a deserved acknowledgment to the intelligent German Republicans, who were foremost when the Republican Party was organized, and rallied with undivided strength to the support of our first gallant standard-bearer, John C. Fremont.

Resolved, That we organize forthwith a Woodford and Kaufman German Central Campaign Club and invite all the German voters to join us in order to crush the rotten and corrupt Tammany Hall regency, who, aided by the political ignorant forces, have for many years ruled with an iron hand this great commercial emporium, and who have succeeded by the most palpable frauds on the ballot-box, by stuffing and repeating votes, to get possession of the State Government. Thus an election is rendered a farce, and fair-minded men of both parties look upon these shameful election frauds as subverting the foundation of the Republic. Therefore, in view of the approaching unity of old Fatherland, we deem it a blessing to this country that the German Americans, irrespective of party, should unite and elect honest and qualified men to office, instead of the present corrupt and profligate clique of the Tammany Hall regency.

After considerable debate in reference to the manner of organizing the campaign club, a resolution was passed, on motion of Mr. Weber, to form at once a German Central Woodford and Kaufman Campaign Club by the election of temporary officers to take in hand the matter of a permanent organization of the campaign club, but as it appeared that this matter was misunderstood, the vote was reconsidered, and the Central Committee adjourned, to proceed to the organization of the Central Campaign Club. This action occasioned for a moment considerable confusion, but the assembly was immediately called to order by Mr. Gellman as a campaign club. Mr. Gellman was thereupon elected temporary President, Mr. Wm. Weber was elected Vice-President, and Mr. Henry Richard, Secretary.

The new German Central Campaign Club thus organized will consist of the delegates of the German Central Republican Committee and those of the numerous German district campaign clubs now in the process of formation.

The Seventh Assembly District Union Republicans—The Resolutions and Speeches.

A regular monthly meeting of this organization was held, last evening, at the rooms of the Club, No. 750 Broadway, Mr. Joseph Forbes, President, in the chair. Mr. George E. Hill acted as Secretary. The following preamble and resolutions were introduced, and, after discussion, were unanimously passed:

Whereas, We are about to enter upon another political campaign, in which the practical value of the principles of the Republican Party, and the good faith of that party in sustaining those principles, are again to be presented for the support of the people of this State; and,

Whereas, Our opponents have, by their shameful misuse of power in the past two years, shown that they have learned no wisdom from adversity, and have demonstrated anew their unfitness to be intrusted with the government, the patronage or the finances of the State, and ought to be again allowed to retire from our high places to give place to better rulers; therefore,

Resolved, That we are proud of our candidates, and of the principles announced by our late Convention, and are determined to do our full part of the duty of securing their triumph at the polls in November.

Resolved, That the character, ability and patriotism of our candidate for Governor, Hon. Stewart L. Woodford, have been well tried and demonstrated at the Bar, in the field, and in the halls of legislation, and challenge comparison with any candidate the Democracy can find to place against him.

Resolved, That our candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, Sigismund Kaufmann, in his own character and well-earned reputation as a man of marked ability, cultivation and integrity, as well as in the fact that he is the chosen representative of German liberty and progress which are just now striking such telling blows against despotism in another continent, overturning thrones, sowing the seed of Republicanism among the nations of Europe, is a valuable acquisition to our ticket and deserving of our most cordial support, and that so far as in us lies we intend to secure him and the entire ticket a triumphant election.

Resolved, That we congratulate the Republicans of this district upon the practical harmonization of the conflict which has heretofore disturbed and hindered the usefulness of our organization; and that we are now once more into line, and ready to meet the common enemy, and we hope to give a good account of him at the end of the fight.

The meeting was addressed by Rev. Dr. Turpin, (colored,) who said he could furnish from 400 to 500 voters in November for Stewart L. Woodford. He claimed that he had always been a Republican, and that at the ensuing election this State would go for Gen. Woodford sure. About twenty names were submitted by Capt. Gibbons for membership. Messrs. Richardson, Burchard, General Burke, Da Costa, Stewart, Daganne, and Fitch addressed the audience. Much enthusiasm was manifested. There will be a meeting of this organization next week for the purpose of forming a campaign club for Woodford and Kaufman. The premises No. 750 Broadway have been leased until May next.

Meeting of the State Republican General Committee—Important Action.

The Republican General Committee of the State of New-York met, yesterday, at the Fifth-avenue Hotel for the purpose of organization. Mr. J. H. Ramsay was called to the chair for temporary organization. Twenty-six of the thirty members responded to their names.

The Convention resolved to elect their officers by ballot, but the vote was in each case unanimous. The following are the permanent officers: Chairman, Alonzo B. Cornell; Secretary, L. L. Doty; Treasurer, Geo. Opdyke.

Mr. Sharpe moved that six persons be appointed by the Chair, who, with the permanent officers, should constitute the Executive Committee, which was adopted. The following persons were named as the Committee: Gen. Sharpe, J. H. Ramsey, E. A. Merritt, E. D. Webster, C. A. Arthur, H. D. Robertson.

The question of permanent location for the Committee was referred to the Executive Committee.

A committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Henry Smith, E. B. Martin, and S. T. Maddox, was appointed to audit the accounts of the late Secretary and Treasurer, and transfer the funds in their hands to the new officers. It was resolved that four stated meetings of the Committee should be held on Sept. 29, Oct. 13, Oct. 27, and Nov. 3, and that the Executive Committee have power to call special meetings.

It was resolved that the subject of reorganizing certain Assembly District Associations in this City, referred by the Rochester Judiciary Convention to the General Committee, be referred to the Executive Committee of this Committee, with power.

It was decided that a majority of the Committee should be required to constitute a quorum.

A recommendation was directed to be made, through the members of the Committee, that where county conventions had not already been called the County Committees call them at an early day, and that each member of this Committee be a subcommittee to further the early canvass of the several districts.

Resolved, That the Executive Committee provide [illegible] for an early and efficient enrollment and classification of the voters of the State.

Several communications were read and referred to the Executive Committee.

The Committee then adjourned, and the Executive Committee went into secret session, their meeting continuing till late in the afternoon.

Soldiers' and Sailors' Central Union.

Last night a meeting of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Central Union was held at the Cooper Institute, about 250 members present, and Gen. Pleasonton in the chair. The Executive Committee were requested to report on the number of organizations working in harmony with them this campaign, and which are said to be twenty in number, with an aggregate membership of [illegible]. It was decided to rent a hall on Broadway to meet in during the forthcoming campaign, the rent to be [illegible] a month, and a Finance Committee was appointed to supply the sinews of war. Stirring addresses were delivered by Col. Burke, Col. Morgan, Col. Bullet, Gen. Ketchum, Gen. Gresan and Gen. Bell. Several speakers condemned the "other Richmond in the field," as having been started in the interests of Tammany, and they insisted that the Central Union is the original Richmond.

Ninth Assembly District Woodford and Kaufman Club.

The members of the Ninth Assembly District Woodford and Kaufman Campaign Club, which was organized last Saturday, met last evening in Bleecker Building, George Layland in the chair. Speeches were made by James W. Farr, Norman Stratton, and Nathaniel Appleton, eulogizing the Republican State candidates, indorsing the Administration of Grant, and exhorting all to work zealously to reduce the fraudulently obtained Democratic majority. The success of the Republican Party, they felt certain, would be insured by the rigid enforcement of the law passed by Congress in reference to the Federal supervision of elections. James Cummings, Abraham Dater, Edward Taylor, Nathaniel Appleton and William Pallister were appointed delegates to the Central Woodford and Kaufman Club. The meeting then adjourned.

A Democratic Menagerie—The Richmond County Politicians in Trouble—Lively Times Over the Election of Delegates to Rochester.

The Democrats of Richmond County, S. I., held a Convention yesterday at Richmond for the purpose of electing one delegate to the State Convention at Rochester, and eight to the Congressional Convention at Jamaica, L. I. The assemblage was the largest and most disorderly of the kind ever held in the county. Two o'clock was the hour appointed for the commencement of proceedings, but long before that time the usually quiet streets of the pretty village was crowded with eager politicians and their noisy followers. About six the old bell of the Court-house sounded dismally the call to the meeting, and within a short time the large Court-room was crowded.

The delegates from the various districts were given places inside the railing, while the rank and file were put on the outside, where they remained but a very short time.

John H. Van Clief having called the meeting to order, Mr. John Decker was unanimously chosen temporary Chairman, and Judge Kilpatrick, Secretary. The mention of the Judge's name called forth a storm of hisses, and a dozen men commenced talking and gesticulating in the wildest manner, and others replied as best they could. Some cheered, others laughed; some cried "order" and others attempted to put questions that nobody could hear or understand, and it was thus the Convention opened, only to grow worse as the day wore on.

The Chairman attempted to announce that all questions were out of order, but he was cut short with a babel of voices that rendered it impossible for any remarks to be heard. After the men's lungs got tired there was a slight cessation, of which advantage was taken to call the roll of delegates. When Middleton was called, Mr. Benjamin Brown handed in a protest, and the same was done against the delegates from Castleton and Northfield. The Chairman announced the protests.

Mr. Theodore Frean said his delegation was elected by the Second District, and that election was certified by the Inspectors, and asked were they to be left out by any one who puts in a piece of paper and writes names on it. [Confusion.] He desired to know who protests.

Chairman—You are out of order.

Mr. Frean—There is no contested seat; it is only a protest; read the credentials.

Several Voices—Call the roll, call the roll. Others—Go on, go on. [Great confusion and noise.]

Senator Frost had made an attempt to nominate Mr. Sam'l Barton as permanent Chairman, but his voice was drowned by the noise of the thirty or forty who were speaking and yelling together, so the Senator dropped quietly back in his chair.

Mr. Frean objected to the appointment of a Chairman or organization of a permanent meeting until his and all the districts were represented.

Again the noise and uproar commenced; this time it was really fearful. The people outside the railing got inside among the delegates, and commenced wrangling and using profane language. Everybody was talking, the Chairman was shouting order, and the incessant and disregarded knocking of his hammer added only still more to the dreadful uproar.

Mr. Frean remarked that the Chairman, by his ruling, was gagging his delegation, and asked what right had he to put him down. It was without precedent. [Confusion and noise.] He never saw it done before.

Chairman—I have seen it on many occasions, sir. [Here recommenced the noise. More than twenty jumped to their feet.]

Mr. Brown—Allow me— [Uproar.]

Mr. Disosway—I wish to— [Fearful noise.]

Mr. Brown—I have not before— [Confusion.]

Senator Frost—I desire information. [More noise.]

Delegate—All out of order. [Cheers and noise.]

Chairman—I have asked your pleasure. [Disorder, talking, shouting, and rapping of the gavel.] If you do not have order I will leave the chair. Respect yourselves if you don't respect the Convention.

A crowd at this time got nearer the Chair, and acted in a most disrespectful manner toward the Chairman, who was trying to keep order.

Chairman—It is moved and seconded—[Disorder.]

A Delegate—Mr. Chairman, answer me for Castleton. I want to get out of here. I wouldn't be seen in this company for any amount of money.

Voices—Call the roll.

Another—D—n the roll.

Now the noise became deafening, and the Chairman called on the Police to preserve order, but they were too few, and unable to compete with the ruffians who were creating all the confusion. This confusion and noise continued for upward of two hours and a half before any business could be transacted. At last a temporary lull took place, and the contest about seats was examined into. The affidavit of one Jeremiah Sullivan was read, in which he charged Judge Kilpatrick with stuffing the ballot-boxes at the primaries; and in return the Judge said there was not a word of truth in the whole affidavit; it was a thorough fabrication from beginning to end. Another delegate got up near the Chairman, and, pointing out a man in the crowd, called him a ruffian three or four times.

A Delegate—Mr. Chairman, might I ask a question?

A Voice—You're a Republican.

Another—Shut up.

Another—I move we adjourn.

After explanations, and the withdrawal by Mr. Brown, the contested districts were admitted, and then amid much noise, on motion of Senator Frost, Samuel R. Barton, Esq., was appointed permanent Chairman, and Messrs. Culhe and Kilpatrick Secretaries. The election of delegates was commenced. On the name of John H. Van Clief being proposed for State Delegate, Senator Frost arose and said he had been a candidate for the position, and all knew he would be in a majority if he pressed his claims; for the sake of harmony among the Democrats, he would withdraw his claim, and ask them to nominate Mr. Van Clief unanimously, which was done. The other elections were made, with, if possible, more noise than ever. The following, however, were the choice at last arrived at:

Delegate to State Convention—John H. Van Clief. R. H. Minturn, alternate.

Delegates to Congressional Convention—Northfield—Jesse O. Disosseway. M. Clarke, alternate.

Westfield—Geo. W. Ellis. A. H. Wood, alternate.

Southfield—James R. Robinson. John G. Vaughan, alternate.

Castleton—Joseph P. Kilpatrick. Michael Laughton, alternate.

Middleton—Theo. Frean. A. Winant, alternate.

At Large—Messrs. Samuel R. Barton, Benjamin Brown and John Decker.

Amid great confusion the meeting adjourned.

Democratic Conventions in Kansas and Nevada—Nominations of State Tickets.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 16.—The Kansas Democratic State Convention met in Topeka, yesterday, and nominated the following State ticket: For Governor, Isaac C. Sharp; Lieutenant-Governor, A. J. Allen; Secretary of State, C. C. Durrell; Auditor, H. K. Mahan; Treasurer, S. C. Lephart; Superintendent of Public Instruction, T. H. Murray, and R. G. Foster, of Leavenworth, was nominated for Congress. The platform takes strong ground in favor of taxing bonds, doing away with national banks, against coolie labor, and accepting the Fifteenth Amendment as a finality.

San Francisco, Sept. 16.—The Nevada Democratic State Convention, today, nominated Major L. R. Bradley for Governor, and Frank Denver for Lieutenant-Governor.

Suffolk County Democratic Convention.

The Suffolk County Democratic Convention was held in the Court-house at Riverhead yesterday. Hon. H. A. Reeves was called to the chair, and G. J. Raynor and Robt. W. Pearsall elected Secretaries. Dr. John W. Gordon, of Islip, was elected delegate to the Democratic State Convention by acclamation, and Jesse Tuthill, of Babylon, alternate.

It was resolved that the delegate to the Democratic State Convention tender that Convention hearty support and co-operation in the renomination of the present State officers; and that this resolution be attached to the credentials of the delegate.

German Democratic General Committee—The Tammany Ticket Indorsed—Silence Recommended on the War Question.

A regular meeting of the German Democratic General Committee was held at the hall in Third-avenue, near Sixteenth-street, last evening, Coroner Schirmer, the Chairman, presiding, and about 100 members present. Communications were read from various Ward Associations, recommending certain candidates for State and City offices, all of whom were known to have been decided on by the Tammany Ring. In fact, all the leading men in the General Committee are office-holders under Tammany, and run the German General Committee in her interest. The Executive Committee held a preliminary meeting, at which they drew up a series of resolutions, recommending Tammany Hall to nominate the following gentlemen, all of whom it is well known she had resolved to nominate months ago, independent of any recommendations on the part of the Germans: For Governor, John T. Hoffman; for Mayor, A. Oakey Hall; for County Clerk, Charles Loew; for Sheriff, Matthew T. Brennan; for Coroner, Gerhard N. Herrman. The resolutions were adopted by the General Committee. A resolution was also adopted recommending the State Convention, which assembles in Rochester on Wednesday next, to say nothing whatever about the war question. The Committee then adjourned.

Political Brevities.

The Irish Republican Association of the Second District held a large and enthusiastic meeting last evening at No. [illegible] Chatham-street, Patrick Mack in the chair. Addresses were delivered by the prominent Republicans of the district. After enrolling 100 new members the meeting adjourned with cheers for Woodford, Kaufman and victory.

At present all things indicate that the following slate has been agreed upon by the leaders of the Republican Party in Kings County:

For Congress—Third District—E. D. Webster, of the Seventh Ward; Second District—Samuel Blatchford, of New Utrecht. Register—Samuel T. Maddox, of the Fourteenth Ward. County Clerk—James McLeer, of the Fourth Ward. Superintendent of the Poor, Fourth District—H. V. Vanderveer, of Flatbush. Justice of Sessions—William Hoyt, of Flatlands.

For Assemblymen—First District—Cornell White, First Ward. Second District—A. B. Thorn, Third Ward. Third District—J. B. Ludden, Sixth Ward. Fourth District—J. Henry Storey, Twenty-second Ward. Fifth District—Samuel Giberson, Twentieth Ward. Sixth District—Jacob Worth, Sixteenth Ward. Seventh District—Charles W. Cheshire, Thirteenth Ward. Eighth District—George C. Bennett, Eighteenth Ward. Ninth District—George N. Shelton, Ninth Ward.

The gentlemen elected at the Democratic primaries, in Brooklyn, on Wednesday night, to select delegates for the State Convention, to be held at Rochester on the 21st prox., met last evening in the rooms of the General Committee, and elected the following representatives:

1. Robert Furey.
2. Isaac Badeau.
3. Thomas Kinsella.
4. James McCauley.
5. Timothy Desmond.
6. Wm. C. DeWitt.
7. H. J. Godwin.
8. Patrick Nunis.
9. H. J. Forker.

The Independent Democrats held a meeting, last evening, at Montague Hall, and appointed a committee of conference to wait upon the German Democrats, and nominate a ticket, to be supported in opposition to McLaughlin's "Ring" nominees.

Yesterday afternoon the Queens County Republican Committee met at Hunter's Point, and fixed upon Tuesday, Oct. 11, for holding the Republican Convention in Queens County, at the Court-house, North Hempstead.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Temperance Movements—Congressional Nominations.

Binghamton, N. Y., Sept. 16.—A Convention of the Temperance men, held in this city yesterday afternoon, decided to organize in Broome County an anti-dram-shop party, and appointed a committee to adopt candidates from the party nominees; or, if such were not satisfactory, to name new candidates. In the evening Rev. Wm. Hosmer, editor of the Northern Independent, addressed a meeting at Firemen's Hall, in favor of a thorough organization.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 16.—The Radical Convention in the Sixth District, yesterday, nominated Ex-Lieut.-Gov. Smith for Congress. The platform adopted is silent on the suffrage question. In the Fifth District the Convention refused to adopt the Brown platform, whereupon the Liberals retired and nominated E. L. King for Congress. In the Twelfth Illinois District, yesterday, the Democrats nominated Wm. Huntsell for Congress.

Geneseo, N. Y., Sept. 16.—The Livingston County Democratic Convention choose W. H. Pierce as delegate to the State Convention with Col. L. B. Faulkner as alternate.

Schenectady, Sept. 16.—At the Republican Congressional Convention for the Eighteenth District, held in this City today, Hon. James M. Marvin was nominated for Congress.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 16.—Hon. Ignatius Donnelly has been nominated by the Democrats of the Second District of Minnesota for Representative in Congress.

St. Louis, Sept. 16.—After the bolters left the Fifth Congressional District Convention yesterday, a resolution indorsing President Grant's Administration and the Suffrage Amendment, was adopted, and Capt. Burdett was nominated for re-election to Congress by acclamation.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 16.—Hon. Wm. M. Merrick was nominated today for Congress by the Democrats of the Fifth District.

Hon. Samuel M. Hambleton was renominated for the First District.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The Democratic Convention of the Second Congressional District of Minnesota met at St. Paul yesterday, and resolved not to make a nomination for member of Congress, but recommended Democrats to support Ignatius Donnelly, who runs as an independent free-trade candidate.:::: In the Second District the Democrats nominated C. N. Buck, of Winona, for Congress.

Nashville, Sept. 16.—N. S. Collyer, Democrat, announces himself a candidate for Governor, against the Brown party nominee.:::: W. B. Stokes, lately dangerously ill, is now convalescent, and will probably be able to take his seat in Congress in December.

New-York Liberal Club—First Anniversary of its Organization.

The New-York Liberal Club held an anniversary meeting last evening at Plimpton Hall, on the occasion of the first anniversary of the organization of the Club. Mr. Bell, the President, occupied the chair and there were present a large representation of the members of the Club and their friends, accompanied by their wives and lady friends. Among the notables present were Miss Virginia Woodhull, Miss Tenny C. Claflin, Mrs. Croly, Paul du Chaillu, Charles Moran, and the Abbe de Bourburg. In the room down stairs was spread out for the entertainment of the guests numerous specimens of minerals and scientific drawings, furnished by Prof. Carl Ran, Paul du Chaillu, Prof. Vanderweyde, Prof. Henry Draper, Prof. Louis Elsberg, and others.

Prof. Vanderweyde gave some illustrations of the analogy between light and sound, and was followed by Prof. Loew in some interesting chemical illustrations.

Addresses of welcome were made by the President and Secretary, Mr. D. T. Gardner, stating the objects of the Club, which were to give a hearing to all who desired to give their views on the various subjects which invite the attention of mankind. A year ago they commenced with seven members, and have now over eighty active and fifty corresponding members. During the past year they had held fifty-four meetings, and forty-seven papers had been read before the Club, the subject matter of which had been discussed by 275 gentlemen, without a single unpleasant experience or inharmonious symptom. They disavowed Atheism as peculiar to the Club, and claimed that all they desired was an honest inquiry after truth.

Addresses followed by Prof. Elsberg, Paul du Chaillu, Charles Moran, Dr. Vanderweyde, Stephen Pearl Andrews and others.

The company then partook of a collation, and dispersed at a late hour.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

There was only one sale at the Exchange yesterday morning, though the attendance was quite numerous. The property disposed of was offered by Messrs. ROBERTS & MCGUIRE, by virtue of a judgment order of the Supreme Court, JAMES H. COLEMAN, Esq., referee, and consisted of a house and lot on Fifty-third-street, north side, 308 feet west of Second-avenue. The lot is 22 by 100.4 feet. On it is a three-story brick house, greatly out of repair, which latter fact, doubtless, acted adversely on the minds of the bidders, though the bids ran up rather spiritedly until the knock down. The property brought $11,600, Mr. JOHN L. CHEESEMAN being the purchaser.

The First Mortgage Eight Per Cent. Gold Bonds of the ST. JOSEPH AND DENVER CITY RAILROAD COMPANY are for sale by the undersigned. Price, 97½ and Interest. The amount of Bonds issued is $1,500,000 on 111 miles of road, of which 80 miles are completed, and the grading of the balance finished, while the iron and materials are on the track to complete it.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE FAIR.

The Attendance Yesterday—Curiosities in the Household Department.

The attendance at the Fair last evening was very large, and consisted in great part of ladies. Department No. 1, wherein are ranged the paintings, photographs, chromos, musical instruments, &c., invariably attracts large crowds of the élete of the City, and, in fact, this section of the exhibition was never seen to such good advantage as it is this year. Prominent among the articles here exhibited, is a number of exquisite pictures in needle-work, the production of Mrs. Alf. A. Riley, of Louisville, Ky. One (the largest) of these represents a scene familiar to any one who has read the history of the Crusades. It is about six feet long by four feet wide, and all the figures are brought out in bold relief, the lights and shades appearing, when the spectator stands at a proper distance from the picture, as if the whole work was from the easel of an artist in oil colors. The other pictures, also the production of Mrs. Riley, represent the agony of our Savior in the Garden of Gethsemane, portraits of the Prince of Wales and his wife, the Princess Alexandra, Queen Victoria, John Bright, and other English notables. The collection will amply repay a visit. All these pictures are for sale.

Changing from the artistic to the useful, the lady visitor will find, on the opposite side of the main entrance, Mrs. Henrietta H. Cole, who is constantly surrounded by a bevy of ladies to whom she is exhibiting the operations of her unrivaled prize medal fluting-machine. The superior advantages, among others, of this machine, of which Mrs. Cole is the inventor, consists in the fact that it neither clogs nor cuts the fluting, and it will flute the finest lace, muslin or woolen goods. Its mechanism is so simple that any one may use it, and it is not liable to get out of repair. Its peculiar construction allows of the working of material of any width, as it is entirely open on one side. This machine took the only diploma and prize medal awarded for this class of articles at the Fair of 1867.

In the Household Department may be seen a new style of window-shades for stores and dwellings, exhibited by H. B. Wiggin & Son, an improvement by which, with one shade and one roller, any portion of the window may be covered.

Messrs. A. Draper & Co. exhibit the Continental Portable Gas Apparatus, for which it is claimed that the gas made by this generator is superior in its illuminating power to the common street or coal gas, and costs one-quarter the price.

The American Toy Company exhibit a variety of house-furnishing hardware, coal-oil burners and lamp trimmings.

Messrs. Moneuse & Duparquet, of Greene-street, exhibit the patent family range and broiler, suitable for hotels, restaurants, and private dwellings.

Hunter & Postley have on exhibition a new and decidedly useful article—patent water-proof building-paper for roofing, sheathing, ceilings, oil-cloths, &c., the material of which seems to be fully capable of withstanding any shower of rain without becoming at all limp.

W. C. Lesster exhibits the patent excelsior base-burner—a heater which occupies only the space of an ordinary fire-place, and with the same amount of fire as is commonly used in a grate will effectually warm not only the room in which it stands but the greater part of an ordinary house.

The Woodward patent gas carbonizer, exhibited by the Woodward Company, will enrich common gas so as to make it yield not only a brighter, but a softer and steadier light, while at the same time it sends out less heat.

The Gardiner patent book-case, also writing-desk and book-case combined; the reversible griddle for cooking hot buckwheat cakes with more facility than by the old style; the monitor coffee-pot; the luxurious chair, a new patent rocker manufactured by Dexter Howe; lamps of all sorts and sizes, with Ives' patent attachments, capable of being applied to all lamps in general use; Paul Sipos' improved kitchen table, combining all kitchen implements within itself, and a profusion of other things designed for the comfort of housekeepers, may be found at this exhibition.

The Erie Cases in the Paterson Courts.

Yesterday one of the suits in which the merchants and manufacturers of Paterson are plaintiffs against the Erie Railway Company, for alleged overcharges for freight, came up for trial in the Passaic County Supreme Court, Judge Bedle presiding. The case, which is that of McGregor vs. The Erie Railway Company, is in itself unimportant, but being first upon the list it was taken up as a test case, upon the decision of which—with that of a similar case in the Circuit Court—the fate of the entire 165 cases will depend. The case was called only a short time before the adjournment, Gen. Hoxsey appearing for the plaintiff, and I. W. Scudder, of Jersey City, for the Company. Gen. Hoxsey had not proceeded far in his opening when the Court adjourned. The claim of the plaintiff is that the Company charged a higher price per ton for freight, and also charged for a greater number of miles than the law allows. The amount of the plaintiff's claim—which, however, is unimportant—had not been stated at the time of adjournment, and there are many points concerning the terms of the charters, &c., which it is supposed will enter into the case of the plaintiff, but which have not yet been alluded to by Gen. Hoxsey. The Court adjourned at 5 o'clock to 10 o'clock this morning, when the counsel will continue his opening. The case, which is extremely complicated with technicalities of law as well as questions of fact, will probably occupy several days in its trial, but however prolonged it may be, it will be watched with the greatest interest by the merchants and the manufacturers of Paterson, whose prosperity has been so greatly affected by the alleged extortions of the Erie managers.

A Fatal Mistake—Sad Case of Poisoning at Amagansette, L. I.

There has been boarding for the last two or three months at the house of Mr. Charles Hand, at Amagansette, L. I., a family consisting of the following persons: Mrs. Gordon, children and servant girl, and Mrs. Killingsworth, the mother of Mrs. Gordon, some seventy years of age. On Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Killingsworth, feeling somewhat unwell, Mrs. Gordon sent her servant girl to the house of Dr. Van Scoy, an old and respectable physician of the place, for eight grains of quinine. The girl called at the doctor's, but he was out. His wife, however, (in the habit of dispensing medicines in her husband's absence,) weighed out eight grains of morphine, she understanding the servant to say morphine. Mrs. Van Scoy now insists that the girl said morphine. The medicine was taken to Mr. Hand's and delivered to Mrs. Gordon, who made up two pills from what she supposed was quinine and gave one to her mother. The mother hesitating to take it, Mrs. Gordon took one, saying to her mother that it would do any one good. The mother took about four grains which immediately put her to sleep. On trying to awake her mother some time afterward, Mrs. Gordon found it impossible to do so. A physician was sent for, but he could do nothing. She died at 3 o'clock Thursday morning. The daughter, Mrs. Gordon, became very drowsy, but the doctor, by repeated exertions, was enabled to save her.

New-York Colored Labor Bureau.

A large number of colored people assembled last night in Zion Church, Bleecker-street, to hear the report of the delegates to the Colored Working Men's Convention, at Saratoga. Rev. Wm. F. Butler, the pastor of the church, presided, and in a few words introduced the delegation. The report stated that the object of the Convention was to incorporate the colored working-men's labor organizations with those of the white men, and to establish a labor bureau in this City where skilled colored workmen could obtain places. These two objects had been attained. The white working men showed a most commendable spirit in recognizing the claims of the colored men, and were willing to receive them on terms of equality. Still there was an unfounded prejudice against colored men, and in consequence many who were masters of various mechanical arts were forced to act as waiters in hotels and restaurants. To do away with this state of things the New-York Labor Bureau was organized, with Stephen Lawrence as President. From this time colored men who register their names will be provided with employment suited to their capacity and acquirements.

After the report was read, Rev. Henry Highland Garnet made a lengthy and humorous speech, in which he exhorted his hearers to take advantage of the opportunities afforded by the newly-established labor bureau, and to cultivate saving habits. He stated that the freedmen of the South had now, four years after their emancipation, $2,000,000 to their credit in bank, and said that the colored men in the North should not be behindhand. After some remarks in a similar strain by Stephen Lawrence, and the enrollment of several persons, the meeting adjourned.

Taxation in Jersey City—Probable Rebellion of the Police Commissioners Against the Reduction of their Allowance.

The Common Council of Jersey City have finally made a reduction of the immense sums appropriated to different departments of the City Government. When the Aldermen had footed up the amounts agreed upon at the meetings held on Friday of last week and on Tuesday last, they found the total to be a trifle over $1,268,000—a sum largely in excess of the amounts expended by the three cities during the year prior to their consolidation. Then commenced the work of reduction, and they have now succeeded in cutting down the appropriations by $155,000, although at the imminent peril of collisions with other branches of the City Government. The Police Commissioners, whose allowance was cut down to $170,000, talk of commencing legal proceedings to compel the Aldermen to pay the full amount demanded by them, and the Board of Education, also threaten to rebel against the authority of the Aldermen. The ordinance as adopted calls for $1,113,111 49, to which is to be added the county tax, $948,528 28 and $49,797 44 for State tax.

CRIMINAL TRIALS.

Cases Before the Court of General Sessions—Another Adjournment of the Anti-Gambling Case—Punishment of a Hotel Thief—Rearrest of Prisoners.

The case of Rowland B. West, the secretary and treasurer of the "Anti-Gambling Society," which was brought on for trial on Thursday, and a jury sworn, was called again yesterday in the Court of General Sessions, Judge Bedford presiding. It was announced that Assistant District Attorney Fellows, who is to conduct the case for the people, was unavoidably detained, and on motion the trial was further postponed till Monday morning, the defendant West, whose wife is lying at the point of death, being allowed to go on his own recognizance until that time.

Two indictments were presented against Alonzo Gibson, charging him with hotel thefts. One of the complaints specified that he entered the room of A. J. Gibson, at the Metropolitan Hotel, and subsequently stole $41 worth of clothing therefrom. He was caught with the property in his possession. It also appeared that he went into a room at the Astor House, and stole $141 worth of articles belonging to George W. Green, Jr. He pleaded guilty, and was then sent to State Prison for five years.

Michael Ward, aged sixteen years, guilty of breaking into the house of John S. Hill, at No. 628 Lexington-avenue, was sent to the House of Refuge.

Thomas Butler was sent to the Penitentiary for two years for having broken into the book and paper stand of Joseph Licht, at the corner of Hudson and Houston streets, with intent to steal.

Wm. Ward was sent to the Penitentiary for six months, for having stolen $26 worth of property from Grosvenor De Camp, of No. 212 Front-street.

Henry Lenier, charged with having obtained $96 worth of feathers from Abraham W. Mass, dealer in millinery goods, by falsely representing that they were intended for H. & M. Kuzman, with whom he was employed, acknowledged his offense. He was then discharged on suspended sentence.

James Gordon and Charles Williams, alias Shady, convicted by plea of burglary, on complaint of Edward F. Browning, were remanded until Tuesday, in order to give them an opportunity to return the stolen property. The accused made their escape from the officers of the Court on Wednesday, but were rearrested on Thursday evening. Williams was found at a house in the Fifteenth Precinct, and jumped from a second-story window in his bedroom to escape, spraining his ankle in the attempt. Gordon surrendered himself to Capt. McCloskey, of the Court Squad, at his house in Mulberry-street. The Court adjourned until Monday.

The Morris and Orange Presbytery is holding its first stated meeting at Mendham, N. J., this week. Rev. B. C. Megee, of Dover, is Moderator, and Rev. J. A. Maxwell, of South Orange, Stated Clerk. Among other business it was considered advantageous, by the Presbytery, that two ministers be appointed, who in pairs should visit the churches of the Presbytery, and a motion to appoint a committee to designate the visiting ministers was passed. A committee was appointed to obtain an act from the Legislature to enable the Presbytery to buy and hold lands and churches in their Presbytery. The meeting has thus far been harmonious and of much interest to the delegates.

LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF.

NEW-YORK CITY.

Yesterday a Deputy Sheriff's bill was presented to Judge Joseph F. Daly, in the Court of Common Pleas, which contained a few items not deemed clearly legitimate. The Deputy levied on a horse and wagon at One Hundred and Fifty-ninth-street and Tenth-avenue, and for carriage hire in going there he charged $8. He then put his boy in charge of the horse and wagon levied on, who drove him down to a stable, and for this he charged, as keepers' fees, $5. Deputy's compensation was fixed in the bill at $10. Judge Daly pronounced these charges inordinate and outrageous, and struck them out of the bill.

A paragraph has been published in one of the morning papers which, in noting the large amount received for customs during August, intimated that it was due to the administration of Collector Murphy. ARMY AND NAVY RECORD.

Washington, Sept. 16.—By direction of the President Capt. John Barry, of the First Cavalry, is transferred to the list of supernumeraries. At his own request Capt. Henry Haymond, unassigned, is honorably discharged from the service of the United States. Capt. R. H. Wyman is ordered to duty in charge of the Hydrographic Office at Washington. Surgeon George Peck, to the Navy-yard at New-York. Surgeon James Suddards, to the Marine rendezvous at Philadelphia. Assistant Pay-master Z. T. Brown, to duty in the Pay master's Department Portsmouth Navy-yard. First Assistant Engineer E. M. Olson, assistant to Chief Engineer Wood, at the New-York Navy-yard. Surgeon A. S. Gibson has been detached from the Marine rendezvous at Philadelphia and ordered to Boston. Gunner William Wilson, from the League Island Station and ordered to the Severn. Gunner R. H. Cross, from the Severn and ordered to League Island Station.

Washington, Sept. 16.—But few changes have now being made in the stations of army officers. This is said to be on account of the new Army bill authorizing reductions, as it is feared by many that they may be honorably discharged if they should desire any change of stations. Consequently the applications for desirable stations have greatly decreased, and the special orders from the War Department heretofore issued daily are now reduced to two or three per week, and it is a rare occurrence to find an officer's name in these. The most of them pertain to recruits, musicians, &c.

7 PER CENT. GOLD LOAN
ON A COMPLETED TRUNK LINE.
THE INDIANAPOLIS, BLOOMINGTON AND WESTERN RAILWAY,

From Indianapolis, Ind., to Pekin, Ill., 205 miles in length, is completed and fully equipped with new and first-class Rolling Stock, and already EARNING NEARLY DOUBLE THE INTEREST ON THE WHOLE ISSUE OF BONDS, with rapidly-increasing receipts.

The bonds are secured by a First Mortgage on the Road, Equipments and entire Property of the Company, and, BEING ON A COMPLETED ROAD WHICH PASSES THROUGH ONE OF THE MOST THICKLY POPULATED AND RICHEST PORTIONS OF THE WEST, with so many valuable connecting trunk lines East and West, NO SECURITY CAN BE MORE ABSOLUTELY SAFE.

The road passes through six flourishing and growing cities, and numerous towns, which contain in the aggregate nearly 200,000 people, and within twenty miles of the track there is a population of over 600,000.

THE BONDS ARE CONVERTIBLE into Stock at par, which is a valuable option, as MANY OF THE WESTERN ROADS, LESS FAVORABLY LOCATED, ARE AT A HIGH PREMIUM.

Over seven-eighths of the loan has been marketed during the construction of the line. The balance we offer at 92½ AND INTEREST, giving investors the full benefit of the advantages of the completion of the road.

All marketable securities received in exchange at market rates. Bonds forwarded to all points FREE OF EXPRESS CHARGES.
